THE LATEST NEWS.

Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—A counterfeit five dollar note on the Trader's National Bank of Chicago has made its appearance in Philadelphia.

—The Philadelphia brokers have offered a reward of $2,000 for the detection and conviction of the forgers of city warrants.

—Oliver Charlick is lying dangerously ill at his residence on Long Island. His physicians believe his recovery impossible.

—The Toledo, Peoria & Warsaw Railroad Company has, it is stated, abandoned the Iowa division of its road, and moved all the rolling stock thereon into Illinois.

—Messrs. Poland and Ward, of the Congressional Investigating Committee, arrived in Little Rock, Ark., yesterday, and will commence taking testimony to-day.

—The Louisiana Returning Board met yesterday, and resolved to canvass the New Orleans city vote first, but adjourned till to-day, on account of Anderson's absence.

—The Boston Journal publishes the annual statement of the real and personal real estate of all towns of Massachusetts. The total taxable valuation of the state, exclusive of personal property and deposits in saving institutions, is $1,831,601,165, a gain of $68,171,175 over last year. Only three counties report a loss.

—The Chicago Tribune has official returns from one hundred counties in Illinois, all except Cook and Franklin counties, which give in round numbers Ridgeway, Republican, for State Treasurer, 44,000 majority over Carroll, and give Etter, Democrat, for Superintendent of Public Instruction, 22,000 majority over Powell.

—A mutiny occurred at sea on board the ship Neptune on October 20. One half of the crew were colored, and the white sailors revolted because Stephen A. Smith, colored, was made boatswain. The white sailors, on the night of the 20th, beat Smith in a fearful manner. The whole crew were arrested on their arrival at New York.

—A colored man named Gordon, living near Memphis, was shot and killed by Dr. White, near Commerce, Miss., on Tuesday. Gordon had stolen a shot-gun from Dr. White, for whom he was picking cotton, and the Doctor attempting to regain the gun, was fired upon by Gordon, and returning the fire, killed Gordon instantly. White was tried and acquitted.

—On Wednesday morning, Robert C. Ramsey, of Helena, Arkansas, shot himself in Memphis, the ball entering just below the heart, inflicting a fatal wound. A telegram to his father was found on the mantel, saying: "I have been driven from home and am maddened. I shall commit suicide. God help me, in the name of Jesus."

No Reprieve for Udderzook.

HARRISBURG, November 11.—The application for the reprieve of Udderzook was rejected by the Board of Pardons, and the following message sent to the sheriff of Chester county:

"You may say to Udderzook that the application for a reprieve in his behalf has been fully considered, and that the decision is adverse.

AMONG OUR MILLS.

Gleanings From Our Exchanges.

SHOENBERGER & Co.'s works are running light.

THE puddling department of the Sligo Iron works is running double turn, the balance of the works single.

THE capacity of Blair Iron and Steel works is 8 to 10 tons of steel ingots per day. At this works the steel is made by the Blair direct process.

THE Nicholson File Company, of Providence, R. I., whose files have such an enviable reputation, get their steel from Messrs. Anderson & Wood, of this city.

ON FRIDAY, the iron department of Reese, Graff & Woods' works went off from double to single turn. The steel department has been running single turn for some time.

MESSRS. ROGERS & BURCHFIELD have struck gas at their iron works at Apollo, at a depth of 1,200 feet. They will substitute it for coal, as they have done at their works at Leechburg.

THE Isabella Furnace Company of this city, have 200 coke ovens near Blairsville, 60 of which are now lighted. It is said that the capacity of all the ovens is 30,000 bushels per 24 hours.

ONE of our city contemporaries stated a few days ago that Messrs. Graff, Bennett & Co. had received an order for pipe iron for thirteen miles of pipe for the city of Rochester, N. Y. This statement went a little farther than the facts warrant. Messrs. G., B. & Co. were about to receive the order, and thought it was "as good as theirs," but at the critical moment an eastern house underbid them by telegraph and got the order—which calls for 2,000 tons of pipe iron. Henceforth the East should cease prating about Pittsburgh "cutting under."

WE HAVE just seen a piece of sheet steel, rolled from a piece of steel casting, made at the works of N. W. Hussey. It is one and a half inches wide and one-eighth inch thick, having no sign of a crack or flaw. After rolling it was tempered, and then cut on one side with a cold chisel, and with much difficulty broken. It proved to be very tough, and at the same time took a fine polish, upon being ground, the grain being very fine. This article of steel will most probably meet the wants of manufacturers of straw cutters for knives, and will be valuable for machinery generally. Such is the perfection to which steel castings are being brought.

THE STATUS of the blast furnaces of this city is as follows: Clinton, blowing; Eliza (2 stacks), blowing; Shoenberger, one blowing, the other ready to blow when so decided; Lucy, blowing; Isabella, one blowing, the other relined and waiting for a better market; Soho, being relined, perhaps will not be ready much before January 1; Superior, both idle and sadly out of repair. This shows six in blast and five out. The weekly capacity of those in blast is about 2,500 tons, of those out 1,900 tons. The capacity of all our furnaces is therefore about 4,400 tons per week, or 228,800 per annum, which amount is about one-third of the pig iron consumed in the city when business is brisk.

FOR a long time the iron manufactures of Pittsburgh were almost entirely in the heavy line, but within the last few years numerous hardware manufactories have sprung up, the latest being the shovel works of Hussey, Binn & Co., preparing to go into operation. As we noted a week or two ago, Kloman, Park & Co. have also added axes to their list of manufactures, and Hubbard, Lippincot, Bakewell & Co. have also very considerably enlarged the capacity of their ax works. We are glad to see this increasing diversity in our manufactures, and hope to see it continue until Pittsburgh shall rival Sheffield in the production of hardware. Her facilities in this line are certainly unsurpassed, every requisite material being on the spot, abundant, cheap, and good.

THE Union Forge and Iron mill, formerly known as the Lower Union Iron mill, and which has been operated during the past year under the firm name of Wilson, Leggate & Co., is now running very successfully under the new firm name of Wilson, Walker & Co., the change having been made on the first of October. These works are engaged chiefly in the manufacture of railroad specialties, of which they are shipping regularly 60 tons per month to one railroad company, and have contracted within the past month to supply several other roads, which orders they are now filling. They are also manufacturing iron by a new process, a large portion of which is used by Messrs. Kloman, Park & Co. in the manufacture of axes, and by Messrs. Ahlborn & Eckermann for axles.

IT WILL be remembered that some time ago Jared M. Brush & Son were awarded the contract for the rising mains for our new water works, said mains to be of wrought iron, and now we have to relate that the representative of a Harrisburg iron works is in the city trying to get the Messrs. Brush to award them the contract for the iron for the mains. This fact, taken in connection with that other fact, the under-bidding of Messrs. Graff, Bennett & Co. by an eastern firm for the contract of 2,000 tons of pipe iron for Rochester, begins to make it look squally for Pittsburgh the coming winter. It will not surprise us at all if this contract goes to Harrisburg, nor will it surprise us if they can under-bid our manufacturers, when we consider that in the matter of boiling they possess an advantage of $1.50 per ton.

YESTERDAY afternoon a woman with wild looking eyes rushed out of a car at the depot, cast her eagle eyes over the assembled multitude, finally lit on a small boy who was trotting about the platform, and set up a yell like the sound of an ungreased fly-wheel. She reached for him, jerked him up on the car, and led him in. In a moment mournful cries were wafted through the crack of the door, and there were sounds as if the woman was applauding something. And so she was.—Oil City Derrick.

THE "Sherman House," Chicago is not only the best furnished and best conducted hotel in that city, but has the most convenient location. It is near the great wholesale houses, the Chamber of Commerce, the railroad offices and the principal theatres.

Another Battle Fought in Spain.

The Carlists Compelled to Retreat.

SPAIN.

Siege of Mount St. Marco.

HENDAYE, November 11.—The Republicans opened fire on the Carlist entrenchments at Mount St. Marco yesterday, and carried several positions with severe loss to the insurgents.

A General Engagement.

HENDAYE, November 11.—An official Carlist dispatch says: On Tuesday morning the Republican General Loma opened fire on all our positions at a distance of three leagues. He penetrated our lines at Santa Cruz, but our right made a vigorous attack and compelled him to retire. Both sides suffered considerable loss. Don Carlos and General Elio were present during the engagement.

In a Dangerous Position.

HENDAYE, November 11.—Noon.—It is said Don Carlos and Gen. Elio have been cut off from the field of battle near Irun. The Carlists are much dispirited, though they still maintain their positions.

The Battle Still in Progress.

Later.—The battle between the Carlists and Republican forces is still in progress in the neighborhood of Reuteria. Seven hundred men from the garrison of Irun made a sortie in the direction of Fontarabia, and effected a junction with the relieving forces.

Carlists Retreating.

Evening.—The Carlists have retreated from Irun, and the Republican troops occupied the positions held by the besiegers.

General Lazerna has entered Irun with his escort.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Proposed Reciprocity Treaty.

BRADFORD, November 11.—The Chamber of Commerce to day unanimously adopted a memorial to the Government condemning the proposed reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States, and deprecating the imposition of lower duties in Canada than in England.

Ocean Cables.

LONDON, November 11.—Stafford Northcote, Chancellor of the Exchequer, replying to a communication from the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Direct United States Cable Company, says the Government has no intention of purchasing the direct cable or any other ocean lines.

The Brussels Conference.

LONDON, November 11.—The results of the late international conference at Brussels form the subject of fresh negotiations between some of the Governments represented thereat. Russia asks that the conclusions of the conference be embodied in a regular treaty between the nations whose representatives signed the agreement.

AFRICA.

Discovery of a New River.

LONDON, November 11.—The New York Herald correspondent at Khartoom, Africa, reports, under date of yesterday, the return of Col. Long from Gondokoro, bringing intelligence of his discovery of a new river, situated in latitude 1 degree 30 minutes north, floating into Victoria Lake. The road between Uquinda and Zanzibar is very unsafe.

FRANCE.

Gratuitous Primary Secular Schools.

PARIS, November 11.—Thirty-three members of the Council General of the Seine have passed a resolution recommending the establishment of gratuitous primary secular schools in Paris, attendance upon which shall be obligatory. The resolution has been presented to the Permanent Committee of the Assembly for consideration.

Searching for Don Carlos.

PARIS, November 11.—On the receipt, on Monday, of a request from the Spanish embassy to have Don Carlos and his staff interned, the French Government instructed the local authorities at Hendaye to take measures to comply with this request. Notwithstanding their diligent search, and the fact that the Spanish embassy had informed them of the very house at which Don Carlos was stopping, the authorities of Hendaye were unable to find the Carlist chief. The failure of the search was to-day officially communicated to the Spanish Ambassador.

CUBA.

An Insurgent Killed.

HAVANA, November 11.—Another of Carlos Garcia's band was killed here yesterday. Vicente Garcia has apparently been chosen chief of the insurgents in the Eastern Department. The Spanish commanding General has sent a strong column in pursuit of the insurgents there.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, November 11, 1874.

The Proposed Transportation Combination.

Correspondence is published between C. P. Huntington, Vice President of the Central Pacific Railroad, and President Sage, of the Pacific Mail Company. The former proposes equal passenger rates by rail and steamship to San Francisco, said rates to be low; the raising of the rates of freight by both routes to a remunerative basis; the railway companies guaranteeing to the steamship company $18,000 freight per steamer every seventeen days from this port, and the renewal of the old contract between the companies in regard to the China and Japan business; the railway companies to make and control all rates between New York and San Francisco, and the contract to be for ten years.

Mr. Sage, in reply, encloses resolutions adopted by the directors of the Pacific Mail Company to-day, declaring that while ready to make a fair and equitable arrangement for all business with overland railroad companies, they consider Mr. Huntington's propositions unsatisfactory, and respectfully decline them.

Conspiracy to Defraud the Customs.

Charges of conspiracy to defraud the customs were made to-day before the United States Commissioner against W. J. Pollock, of the importing firm of W. J. Pollock & Co., and Ramson Van Valkenberg and his son, custom house cartmen. The specific charge is that the Van Valkenbergs, at the instance of Pollock, substituted for four cases of rich silks, while on their way from the wharf to the store for appraisal, four other cases, bearing similar marks, but containing inferior goods, on which there is a lower rate of duty. Pollock's bail was fixed at $20,000 and the Van Valkenbergs' at $10,000 each.

ARKANSAS LEGISLATURE.

The Governor's Message.

LITTLE ROCK, November 11.—The General Assembly met at three P. M. to-day, and received the message of Governor Baxter. He congratulates the people on regaining control of their affairs, and trusts that the victory will be used wisely and well, and that no proscription will be indulged in toward any class. He refers with pride to the new Constitution, and urges many reforms. He says the State has no idea of repudiating any of her just debts, and recommends some provision looking toward a funding of the outstanding indebtedness. He also recommends a revision of the common school system, and other measures of importance. The Governor says he retires from the position of Governor with the proud satisfaction that the people are to be ruled by men of their own choice, and has no doubt the distinguished gentleman chosen for Governor will administer the affairs of the State to the satisfaction of all her citizens.

SANITARY.

Meeting of the American Public Health Association—Second Day's Proceedings.

PHILADELPHIA, November 11.—At the session of the American Public Health Association this morning, Ezra M. Hunt, M. D., President of the Sanitary Commission of New Jersey, presented a paper upon "Building ground in its relation to health and disease." After discussion of the paper it was referred to the Publication Committee.

Dr. S. C. Busey, of Washington, presented a report upon the gathering, packing, transportation and sale of fresh vegetables and fruits, and their competent inspection, and free markets for producers, which was referred to the Publication Committee.

Gen. Butler Threatens a New Departure.

BOSTON, November 11.—It is reported that General Butler is preparing for publication a letter showing the causes of his late defeat. He claims that he was betrayed by men professing to be his friends, and promises uncomfortable revelations. He threatens to form a new party in Massachusetts.

Billiard Tournament.

NEW YORK, November 11.—Rudolph, 300; Daniels, 227; winner's average, 7 27-39. Garnier, 300; Slosson, 46; winner's average, 18 12-16.

THE CREMATION CASE.

Further Testimony in the Cincinnati Tragedy—Verdict of the Coroner's Inquest.

CINCINNATI, November 11.—Further testimony was taken in the inquest on the remains of Herman Schilling. The important feature of it was the discovery of a key in the ashes of the furnace where his body was burned. The key is identified as the one Schilling used that night to lock the inside gate. This will aid materially in identifying the remains as his.

The second confession of young Egner was read to him to-day, and he swears to its truth. The others do not confess.

The verdict is that Andreas Egner and George Rufer killed the deceased, and Fred Egner was accessory. Egner's second confession was obtained after much persuasion and a promise that it would be better for him to tell the whole truth. The parties who obtained it were not detectives nor officers of the law.

The Cincinnati Horror—The Brutal Murder of Henry Schilling—How the Deed was Done—The Full Confession of One of the Parties Charged with the Crime.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11, 1874.

The murder case still creates great excitement here, which has been intensified by the confession of young Egner, one of the parties implicated in the crime.

The alleged cause for the murder was the seduction of a daughter of Egner by Schilling. The daughter died, and from that time, the father determined upon revenge, in which he was strengthened by Roper, who also had a grudge against Schilling.

Fred Egner, Jr., a boy seventeen years of age, who is under arrest as a participant in the crime, has made the following confession:

At 9 P. M. Saturday, Rufer came to my father's saloon, at 153 Findlay street, and said he was going to get Herman out of his job. My father said that was right. At half-past nine my father, Rufer and myself went over to the tan yard. Rufer had a key to the back door gate. We went in that way. Rufer went behind the pile of tan bark. Father and myself hid behind the large posts which support the shed. My father and George Rufer said before we went over in the tan yard, "we will go over and kill that low s—n of a b—h." We watched for half an hour, until Herman Schilling came. He came in through the Gamble alley gate about 10 o'clock. George had a long piece of wood Herman lit a small stubble and went into the stable to rub the horse. George Rufer went in the stable after him and hit Herman two or three times over the head with this piece of wood. He fell and got up immediately. He fell a second time. Herman halloed "watch" and "murder." George Rufer seized him by the throat. Herman scratched him in the face. My father took the five-pronged fork and stabbed him in the bowels once or twice. He stabbed him in the legs once or twice also. The dogs did not bark, as they knew George. Then George got hold of Herman by the leg, pulled him out in the yard and wanted to throw him in the vat. George said to my father, "We will be found out," meaning that the body would be recovered. Then George pulled him over to the furnace. George had hold of his head; I had him around the body; my father had hold of his legs. I got the rake that is used for pulling out the ashes, and tried to push him in the furnace, but failed. Then George took it from me, and pushed him in the furnace with it. George went then to the beam-house, and washed his hands. My father and myself then went home and went to bed. George also went toward home.

Q.—Who was it that proposed to put him in the furnace?

A.—George Rufer.

Q.—Was he dead or alive when you put him in the furnace?

A.—He was dead. I could not see him move.

Q.—Where were you when this murder was proposed?

A.—In my father's bar-room.

Q.—Who first proposed the killing?

A.—George Rufer, and father said it was right. George said I should go along and help, and this is all I have to say.

[Signed] FRED. EGNER.

Attest: P. F. MALEY.

The conduct of the father, when confronted by the terrible testimony from the lips of his own son, was very excitable. He denied it with the loudest, coarsest oaths, and heaped imprecations upon the head of the unfortunate lad, whose coarseness and ignorance seems to have led him into the terrible net. He said the boy was crazy and did not knew what he was saying, but the latter, nothing daunted, protested the truth of his disclosures.

Rufer also denounces the boy's statement as false. He speaks readily, and smiles when spoken to, but it is a forced smile, and gives his features a look of pain rather than one betokening carelessness or pleasure. He protests in the most violent language that Fred. Egner's story is a lie throughout, and says that the boy hesitated and stammered in his recital, and did not dare to look him in the face. This is not true. The boy made his statement slowly, but without flinching under the withering imprecation of his father, or the profane denials of Rufer. He says he will protest his innocence so long as he has a drop of blood in his body.

The boy Egner appeared in a pitiful condition when brought into the jail office. The terrible ordeal through which he is passing has made him weak and haggard, but his statements are plain, concise, and straightforward. The mental suffering which he endures must be intense, yet such is the coarseness of his nature and the bluntness of his moral sensibilities that the appreciation of his awful position, if he has it, does not deprive him of the sleep which his body exacts. His answers to the questions put to him were slow at first. He had just been aroused from a sound sleep, but he soon brightened up, and answered quite readily. He said that he had made his statement voluntarily, and that no one had held out any promises whatever. He was badly frightened, however, when spoken to, as he had never been in such a place before. He said, too, that he had an idea that it might help him if he were to tell the whole truth about the matter. He denies that he hesitated when telling the story before Rufer and feared to look him in the face, and said all that he had said was true, despite the denials of his father and Rufer. When questioned as to his father's statements regarding his insanity, he said that he was not crazy, and his father had never said so before. He had got no blood on his clothing for the reason that he took hold of the clothing in the middle of the body, and did not press it against him. Rufer got the blood upon his clothing because, in carrying the body, he took hold of the cr husedand bleeding head.

SECOND EDITION.

THE CAPITAL.

Treasurer Spinner's Annual Report.

Important Suggestions for Congress.

The President's Views on Financial Questions Unchanged.

WASHINGTON, November 11, 1874.

The President's Views on Financial Questions.

The statement that the President's views on financial questions have been modified since last spring is denied on the highest authority. Not only has the President not changed his opinion, but he has freely and repeatedly expressed to all persons who have seen proper to approach him on the subject the same views contained in his veto message. It is equally certain that the Secretary of the Treasury has not expressed any views antagonistic to the opinions of the President, and his friends confidently assert that his forthcoming report will urge strongly upon Congress a return to specie payment at the earliest practicable period.

Treasurer Spinner's Annual Statement shows that the receipts for the year ending June 30, exhibit a decrease compared with the previous year in customs, caused by the panic, of $24,985,689, and in internal revenue, occasioned by the recent change in the law, of $11,315,529. The expenditures, exclusive of those on account of the public debt, have been decreased $1,869,652. Commendable, he says, as this retrenchment is, it is believed it will be still greater at the end of the current year.

Gen. Spinner says the labor required in his office has increased, and suggests an appropriation by Congress to each department and its bureaus of a round sum sufficient for payment, at discretion, to clerks for work performed as likely to give better service to the Government than the present graded system of compensation. The reduction in the number of female employes and the reduction of the salaries of those remaining, under the act of Congress at the last session, has been a source of inconvenience to the department and of distress to poor widows and children.

The Treasurer asks legislation to restrain the issue of circulating notes other than authorized by acts of Congress, making the same a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both. This evil is mainly at the South, in some localities of which almost the whole circulating medium consists of local issues by municipalities and manufacturing companies.

He suggests an amendment to the law attaching a penalty for non-payment, within the prescribed time, of the duty due from any national bank, of an additional sum at the rate of one per centum per month upon the amount due and unpaid, the same to be retained from the next interest due on its stock held in trust for the redemption of circulating notes.

Spinner also urges the passage of a law authorizing the Treasurer to redeem unsigned notes of national banks that have been, or may hereafter be, delivered, in the same manner as other notes.

The Treasurer recommends that loans be kept separate from other accounts; also that unavailable balances against public officers, &c., on which it is not probable anything will be realized except through suits at law, be transferred to the books of the Register of the Treasury, and when advisable, suits be brought therefor.

As to national bank note redemption, he thinks no further delay will occur, though the Redemption Agency is still without sufficient help. Notices will soon be sent to the banks advising them of the amounts charged to their redemption fund, to reimburse the Treasury for charges for transportation and the cost of assorting notes. The charges will be in proportion to the number of notes redeemed rather than their value. The Redemption Agency, he thinks, should be made a diversion in the Treasurer's Office, subject to the control of the Secretary of the Treasury. There should be stringent provisions of law compelling banks to keep good their five per centum redemption deposit, and banks ought to be allowed to keep an excess thereon if desired.

Amendment of the laws is also recommended authorizing the exchange of notes fit for circulation held by the Redemption Agency for unfit notes held by the Treasury, which would save double transportation, expense and time. Another amendment is urged requiring all notes not bearing the charter number on their face when redeemed to be treated as unfit for circulation, and destroyed.

It is also recommended that the Comptroller of the Currency, with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury, be empowered to appoint a special agent to examine the affairs of banks neglecting to keep up their five per centum redemption fund, and on his report is warranted to place such banks in the hands of a receiver.

With these amendments, and perhaps an increase of the amount to be kept in the Treasury for the redemption fund to seven per centum on the circulation of banks, the necessity or non-necessity of which will be known in time for Congress to act upon, it is believed the law will enable the Redemption Agency to perform all the functions required or expected by Congress, the banks and people.

The Ordeal of the Conspirators.

In the safe burglary trial Ex-Governor Shepherd testified that Richard Harrington was in Washington on April 19, and lunched with him at Walker's. This was corroborated by Walker.

Several witnesses testified that a number of signatures, apparently Whiteley's, were not his.

Probabilities for To-Day.

For New England and the Middle States, colder and cloudy weather, with brisk northwest winds and rising barometer.

The Miners' Strike in Illinois.

ST. LOUIS, November 11.—The strike of the coal miners in St. Clair county, Illinois, opposite this city, continues, and at a meeting held yesterday at French village, it was resolved that work in all the mines in the Belleville district be suspended until every company in it and all non-Union men join the Miners' Union, and are governed by the same laws. The strike is for a uniform price of four cents per bushel for digging, eight hours labor, and just weight. The Union miners also insist that all non-Union men, or "black legs," as they are called, shall join the Union. There is a good deal of uneasiness in Belleville, and considerable apprehension is felt that trouble, if not bloodshed, will follow. To avoid this, if possible, a militia company has been formed and arms received from the State. The miners assert that they do not intend to resort to violence, but are determined to hold out till their demands are acceded to.

Municipal Election in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, November 11.—Thomas Doyle, Republican, who has steadfastly sustained the Board of Water Commissioners against the efforts to oust them, is reelected by a large majority. The City Council is largely Republican, and in favor of the present Water Board. The prohibition question was brought into the election, but nine of the ten Aldermen are regarded as anti-prohibition.

Murderers' Confessions.

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., November 11.—A special from Montrose, Pa., says O'Mara and Irvin, to be hanged to-morrow, have each made statements, the former confessing to the murder of his mother, and saying Irvin killed his sister. This is in a written confession now in the Sheriff's hands. Irvin, in a verbal statement, denies actual participation in the murders, but acknowledges being present and assisting in disposing of the bodies.

A GAS EXPLOSION.

A House Nearly Wrecked—Narrow Escape of the Inmates—An Early Morning Sensation.

Yesterday morning about six o'clock an explosion took place in the residence of Mr. William Fleming, No. 29 Congress street, which came very near being attended with fatal results. On the night before, the family had all retired, leaving Mr. Fleming in the dining room, and before going up stairs he turned off the gas as usual, leaving everything, as he supposed, in good condition. Some time during the night he heard a noise in one of the lower rooms, but paid no attention to it, as nothing seemed to be wrong. Next morning he arose and lighted a lamp which he took in his hand, and proceeded to the dining room. On entering, he found that the chandelier had fallen to the floor, but did not notice that the gas had escaped to any extent. Preparing to kindle a fire, he placed the lamp on the table, and went out into the yard, leaving the door open, not thinking there was any danger. About ten minutes thereafter Mrs. Fleming came down and just as she was passing the dining room door the lamp seems to have communicated with the gas and a terrible explosion was the result. The door which Mrs. Fleming was passing was torn from its hinges, and the force was so great that she was badly shocked, and the flame struck her body, scorching her hair and burning her considerable, though not very severely. The remainder of the family were in the second and third stories of the building at the time, and did not know that the explosion had taken place in their own house until informed by parties called there by the terrific noise. They were naturally very much alarmed, and immediately went down stairs expecting to find some one killed. After their fright had subsided, they began to examine to what extent the building had been damaged, and it was ascertained that not only the dining room door had been blown off the hinges, but the fastenings of the window shutters on the parlor windows had been torn off, throwing the shutters wide open. Further investigation showed that the walls of the entire building had been warped and that the window lights in nearly every room in the house had been broken. The stairway in the dining room was also demolished.

It is almost a miracle, that Mrs. Fleming was not instantly killed; and it is thought that the door being between her and the ignited gas, is all that saved her.

The most singular thing in the whole occurrence was, the lamp had been standing in the room for ten or fifteen minutes before the explosion took place. How this could have been seems a mystery.

The report was so loud that it was heard some distance away, the shock being felt on both sides of the street. A large crowd gathered on the pavement outside, to learn the result. A number of persons who lived near by, and who had not, as yet, arose from their beds, were suddenly awakened from their slumbers by the noise. Arrangements were made yesterday for the speedy repair of the house, and the family are not anxious for any further experience in explosions of gas.

Allegheny Committees.

The Committee on City Property of Allegheny Councils met last evening and approved bills to the amount of about $1,350. Several matters of no public importance were then disposed off.

—The Market Committee met and approved bills to the amount of $145.80.

—The Printing Committee approved bills to the amount of $58.35.

BOTH Republican Congressmen are elected in Florida.

REMEMBER the Board of Trade meeting this afternoon at three o'clock, at the Germania Bank.

THE grain market in Chicago is as fruitful a source of gambling as the stock market in New York. A "corner" is now in process.

HORACE GREELEY's grave is in a neglected condition, and the Typographical Union, which has assumed its care, appeal for subscriptions.

THE Chicago Tribune says: "There is no disguising the fact that the idea of a bond convertible with currency has found a lodgment in many strange places during the recess."

THE Prince Imperial of France is credited with matrimonial engagement with a daughter of the Grand Duchess Marie of Russia,—which may account for the sympathy between the Royal family of Russia, and the exiled Empress.

THE Pacific Mail Steamship Company is made to feel the force of competition. Unless it will give its silk and tea transportation across the continent to the Pacific Railroads, they will employ the English competing lines on the Pacific.

DISRAELI's Guildhall speech, on the occasion of the Lord Mayor's banquet, contained a reflection on Bismarck. He mentioned that no English subject could be "unwillingly dragged from his home and employments" by his sovereign.

THE full list of members elected to the Legislature gives, in the Senate—Democrats twenty; Republicans thirty, with one in doubt. In the House—Democrats one hundred and ten; Republicans ninety-one. Democratic majority on joint ballot, nine.

THE Chicago Inter-Ocean doesn't think the Tribune, of that city, in its return to Republicanism, is as sound as it might be. It shows that on the tariff it is milk and water, while its hard money leanings are what the Republicans of Illinois have just distinctly repudiated. The Inter-Ocean, by the way, is a grand and outspoken Republican paper, right on tariff and currency questions.

THE pamphlet that occasioned the savage fight between Bismarck and Von Arnim, is described as a trashy production, of but little real value, and with no documents that Bismarck need feared to have published. The most fantastic feature of the affair is the one that imagines a German Republic with Bismarck at the head as President. Imagine the royalty-loving Bismarck, full of the idea of the divine right of Kings, the President of a German Republic!

THOSE who think it impossible for the Democracy to attempt to re-establish slavery in any form will be surprised to know, what is the fact, that the lower House of the Texas Legislature passed by its full Democratic vote, a peonage law, that puts it in the power of a justice to contract the labor of all persons convicted of petty offenses, at a price not less than twenty-five cents a day,—the contractor to have full power over the person and liberty of the convicted party. This is slavery in the essence.

TREASURER SPINNER, in his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury, is decidedly in favor of an interchangeable bond, bearing 3.65 interest, and this not only as regards greenbacks, but the five and six per cent. bonds as well. He claims that it will give elasticity to our money, draw in our bonds from Europe, make interest less, and payable in currency, stop the drain of gold abroad, and thus create a basis for specie payments. He does not, however, think a metallic currency desirable, owing to its inelasticity.

SAYS a Western journal, speaking in reference to the aspirations of a somewhat celebrated Tennesseean, "it is not enough that Andy Johnson has been sitting in sackcloth and sprinkling his round head with ashes in Tennessee. It don't matter that he holds up his shaky hand and swears he never was a Republican. The old rebels remember his course during the war (they don't forget these things so easily down there), and have resolved to beat him for United States Senator if they have to form a dozen coalitions to do it."

IT IS quite evident that Postmaster General Jewell will make a practical, sensible report, that will deal mainly with the business administration of his department. Postal telegraph and savings' bank schemes he does not propose to meddle with, but will treat of the deficiency in meeting the expenses of his department, and the best method of remedying it. He is credited with a desire to reduce expenses, and will, it is said, point out how income and outgo may be made to approximate. In brief, he is striving to give just what his department requires—a business, in place of an experimental administration.

THE New York Herald has succeeded in producing a sensation in that city, by means of a report of an imaginary emeute of the wild animals at Central Park. Minute and horrible details were given of the persons killed and eaten by the beasts, the entire narrative wearing the appearance of reality. It now avows that it took this method to impress on the Park Commissioners an idea of the insecurity of the cages in which wild animals are confined at the Park. All this may be true, but it is a poor excuse for a lying sensational report, which must have the effect of destroying its own credibility with the reading public. The use of falsehood, of the most elaborate and sensational kind, to achieve a purpose, will not answer the public, and it is a knife that cuts both ways. It will injure the Herald far more than it will frighten the Park Commissioners. There is nothing specially original, or meritorious in such things. The moon hoax was a curious and ingenious composition, that injured no one, and exhibited certain scientific theories attractively. But the brute hoax of the Herald was simply a piece of barbarous stupidity.

WE mentioned frequently, during the progress of the canvass, that an unlimited issue of greenbacks would prove to be the policy of the Democrats, if restored to power. Hon. Richard Schell, elected on the Democratic ticket from New York city to the new Congress, declares emphatically for expansion. The Richmond Whig repudiates, on behalf of the Southern Conservatives, all affiliation with the bullionist faction of New England. General Ewing, in a speech at Columbus, O., has declared for more greenbacks. Others want the legal tender act repealed, but no specie payments resumed. In fact, the hard money movement makes no headway at all, while the currency movement finds more friends every day, especially outside of New England. As soon as Congress reassembles the feeling in favor of more greenbacks will make itself manifest, especially among the representatives of the South and West. It is becoming doubtful if even New York city does not change front with the rest, as there are indications to that effect. If the Republicans, at the next session of Congress, meet and dispose of this question judiciously, well.

WE HALF wish some patient and skillful collector of curiosities would gather up a list of the "causes" for the late political change that have been published. We are glad to notice that our old friend the New York Tribune is still vigorously at work, evolving them, from day to day. Grant's failure to realize the terrible nature of Third Termism it clings to as a favorite, however. And the worst of this is, that it sees evidence that the President hasn't reformed on this subject. He has pointed out that a Republican, in New York, nominated to Congress on a platform of hostility to Third Termism, was defeated, while in South Carolina, where they declared in favor of that heresy, the stubborn and stupid people insisted on electing the candidates nominated. Ergo, says the logical Tribune, Grant is more than ever in favor of the Third Term, and has Democrats as well as Republicans at his back. This is an astonishing revelation, and half persuades the Tribune that it has only made votes for Grant, by its Third Term agitations. It therefore appeals to Republicans to stop this terrible business, next month when Congress assembles. It also, in the same issue, parades Vice President Wilson, and compels him to say that lack of "statesmanship" is one of the "causes." Possibly; but as Mr. Wilson is one of our statesmen, this putting of such a reason in his mouth is rather insulting, as being self-reproachful. Let us come down to hardpan on this subject, and say the lack of votes is the great "cause."

IT is quite evident that the National banks must, ere long, run the gauntlet of extreme danger, unless Congress should enact free banking, thus destroying the monopoly feature of the system. The views of Judge Kelly, Henry Carey Baird, and others, who would substitute an increased issue of greenbacks, interchangeable with bonds bearing 3 65-100 per cent., are really becoming popular at the West. The idea of straining after specie payments is not popular there. They would be satisfied with the National bank notes as supplemental to the greenback issue, and as representing the elasticity needed in our currency, were that elasticity provided by making banking free. Otherwise, they will strike after the same thing through a convertible bond and greenbacks in place of National bank notes. If we mistake not, this is the coming question in finances. It aims, not at inflation, but a currency that will be safe, and that will adapt itself to the volume of business in the country. If business contracts—as under a panic—the volume of currency will contract to correspond. If it expands, enough currency is wanted to meet the increased volume of business. This provided, and it is proposed to let the business of the country regulate itself. As between these plans, we prefer that banking should be free. This would not involve any change in the existing order of things, other than to permit new banks to be established where the capital could be commanded, and, we think, would operate to call home our bonds held abroad.

POOR ALLEGHENY COUNTY! Friend and foe alike deem it proper, just now, to treat her with kicks. The Democrats claim to have carried her, through the efforts of that paragon of Democratic power and influence, the Post. That self-appreciative journal, by the judicious use of a coop of roosters, managed to create the impression that it did it all, and has been loudly calling for a belt of some kind or other. Whether it is the old Confederate belt, worn in the last ditch, we cannot say. We judge they need it, to buckle around the manly waist of one of the editors, that he may not lose wind so badly in the Senatorial, as he did in the Auditor race. A belt is very evidently needed, and let it be a strong one, for there is a certain lawyer here that loves to cut all belts, worn by that particular crowd. Republican papers and politicians figure variously. If Allegheny county had done its duty, the Legislature would have been right. True. If Allegheny county had been faithful, the sting of the defeat would have been lessened. True. Allegheny is therefore the "Benedict Arnold" says a blushing virgin of a paper, that has just enough of vitality to have us know it is alive. Wait a little, good friends. Why did Allegheny county go back? Republicans, not Democrats, wrought the trouble, and what is more they are not at all penitent over it. On the contrary they say they will do it again if a reform is not had, and if it is had, they will give the old Allegheny county majority, as they are Republicans still. So don't get violent and abuse us. The people meant that in several matters mentioned in these columns there must be reform. Give them this, and there is no trouble about Allegheny county.

WORK AND WINTER.

Just now, the problem is being anxiously considered, by employer and employe,—what of the Winter? With the one, the continuance of business has in it the question whether he can hold his own,—so conduct operations as not to lose money. With the other it is a question of food, clothing and rent for the family at home. Important questions, these, to both. We hope they will be considered by the two classes, with that spirit of sympathy and kindness for each other that is not only Christian, but prudent and wise just now, considered from a merely interested standpoint. We can say little that is fully satisfactory even to ourselves, concerning the outlook for the winter. The weight of evidence, as we see it, is in favor of the idea, that our manufactories and business places can be generally kept in operation, during the Winter, if they can meet the market. Prices are low, and must be during the Winter. But we judge from the movements at the banks, the condition of railroads as to the replenishment of rolling stock, and the gradual growth of business confidence, that there will be orders sufficient to keep our mills running, provided they can meet the market. But the railroads are buying very closely, as they are compelled to pay quickly, and the competition from abroad, as well as the unusual competition for trade at home, compel the very closest figures. We have no motive for representing this subject in the interest of the manufacturers, and so state the facts closely. The working classes are interested as deeply as the employers. Winter is at hand, with its unusual demands, and without work want must come to their homes. We do not advocate a reduction of prices for labor where employers are making fair profits, but if it comes to be true that retrenchment shall be necessary, in order that work may be continued, we have no hesitancy in urging the working people of the city to accede to any reasonable proposal, if thereby they may make enough to keep their families in comfort during the Winter. It is a subject of supreme importance to all concerned; and we hope that union organizations, which may be well enough for ordinary times, will so far forego the rigid application of their rules, as to keep in employment, as many as possible. In brief, employers and employes should concede enough to circumstances to keep business going.

The stoppage of our mills works injury all around. It injures the capitalists, in that once idle, considerable expense must be incurred in starting them again. Those who have means, if our working people are idle, must necessarily contribute to those who are in want. Thus our manufacturers can afford to lose a little rather than stop. It is to them a serious matter to have trade squandered, workmen scattered, works idle. Energy and outlay will be necessary to recover these. Of course, many of them have lost, until they cannot safely lose more. They have been hoping for better times for a year, and they have not come. On the other hand it is equally serious to the workmen to be out of employ. If our mills stop, we judge it will be from four to six months before they open up again. Every stoppage only serves to aid in paralyzing the general trade of the country, and thus, retards the recovery of business activity so generally hoped for. Hence, our mills once stopped, several months must necessarily elapse before they would resume operations. During that period our workmen must bear, as best they may, the burthen of expense that is upon them, or fall into absolute suffering. We hope that this dread alternative will be carefully considered.

If we are correctly informed, the mass of workmen in our mills, knowing that their interests are involved in the action of the puddlers, have urged them to make such terms with employers as will admit of the continuance of work. This suggestion is wise. We favor anything that will be sure to maintain the interests of the workmen; and if concessions are now made by them to the necessities of the situation, with the recovery of business and prices, we hope all will be returned to them. Nor do we speak for the purpose of interference. We have in mind the many families in our city, that are dependent on husbands and fathers having steady work. Some are already visited with sickness, and few of them can look in the face of oncoming Winter without dread. We hope that nothing will be done that will tend to take from them, at least food and warmth during the coming Winter.

Let moderation and wisdom rule; and if both employers and employees do this, we do not fear that our manufactories will stop, or that special suffering will come to our city. If, however, there is not forbearance exercised by both, we fear very much that the result will be disastrous. The outlook to us is, that there is a gradual and increasingly rapid recovery in business confidence. This, if not freshly broken in upon, will go far toward bringing on the complete resumption of business activity by spring. But the closing up of our Pittsburgh manufactories would check this reviving confidence, and put back assured activity half a year. Let us be careful and wise.

SLAVERY.

Revival of the Peculiar Institution—A New Way to Make the African Pay the Ex-Slaveholder for His Body and Soul—Peonage in Texas.

The following is the full text of the bill establishing peonage, passed by the unanimous Democratic vote of the Lower House of the Texas Legislature, at its last session:

An act to provide for the employment of prisoners and convicts of misdemeanors and petty offenses.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas that whenever any person is hereafter convicted of a misdemeanor or any petty offense by any of the courts of this State, and as a punishment therefor is to be imprisoned in the county jail of any county, it shall be lawful for the presiding justice of such county to employ such convicts to labor upon the public buildings or works of the county or upon the public roads of the county during the whole term of his imprisonment or any part thereof; or said presiding justice may hire out such convict to labor either by private or public contract to any responsible person who will hire him, and pay the highest price for such services: Provided, that no convict shall be hired for a less amount than fifty cents per day.

SEC. 2. That the presiding justice is also authorized to employ in like manner the labor of all convicts who may be under the sentence of imprisonment for the non-payment of a fine imposed by any court of this State for the commission of a misdemeanor or petty offense, for which the convict shall receive a credit of one dollar per day for each day's work on any public buildings, roads or other public county works, and, when the fine and all costs are paid by him with such labor, he shall be discharged from imprisonment, unless he is held for some other offense; provided that if there is no necessity for the labor of such convict at any public works of the county, the presiding justice shall hire out such convict either by private or public contract to any person who will pay the fine and all costs, and take such convict to labor for the shortest period of time.

SEC. 3. All persons confined in jail on a charge of having committed a misdemeanor or petty offense may be employed in like manner from the time of imprisonment until the time of trial, and if upon trial such person shall be acquitted, he shall be paid not less than twenty-five cents nor more than one dollar per day, as the presiding justice may contract; provided that before trial and conviction no person shall be held to labor without his consent.

SEC. 4. If any person who is hired out under the provisions of this act shall escape from the person to whom he is hired, it shall be lawful for the sheriff of any county in the State to capture and return such convict to the person from whom he escaped, when an affidavit is made before any person authorized to administer oaths, that such person is an escaped convict. All the labor done by an escaped convict shall be forfeited to his employer, and should he be captured and brought back he shall recommence his term of labor, and continue until the expiration of the full time of the contract made by said justice.

SEC. 5. All the money that may be realized under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the county treasury, as other county funds.

SEC. 5. That all laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

A Well in Flames.

A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from Odell, Illinois, says: "Our town has a new sensation in the shape of a well in flames. On Wednesday, as J. & W. Hosack were boring for water on their farm, about four miles south of town, with a 5-inch augur at the depth of 80 feet, they struck a vein of water that spouted 200 feet in the air, throwing out gravel the size of a hen's egg. The ground for a distance of 600 feet from the well soon became covered with a dove-colored sand to the depth of one inch. Some time during the night the water ceased flowing, and on measuring this morning the well was found to have filled up about 20 feet at the bottom with quicksand, there still being 30 feet of water in the hole, and a kind of gas was issuing from the top. One of the party lit a match, when instantly a streak of flame 20 feet high leaped into the air with a roar like that of a city in flames. The hole, which in the beginning was but 5 inches in diameter, has increased to 12, with the volume of flames steadily increasing. It is situated on the open prairie, and can be seen for miles. It is visited by hundreds to-day, who gaze awe-struck upon this weird and wonderful scene. Whether some reservoir of petroleum lies deep buried beneath, or some other causes have produced this strange phenomenon, we know not, but can only gaze with wonder and speculate on the hidden forces of nature that bid defiance to man's inquisitiveness."

The Story of Jacob Weiss.

All who are disgusted with disease and anxious to be rid of their ills, will read with interest, between their doses, the story of Jacob Weiss, who formerly lived, a mechanic, in Louisville, Kentucky, with a plenty of nothing in his pocket, and bronchitis slowly but surely consuming his pulmonary apparatus. He was advised to go to that Paradise, Golconda, Arcadia, that argentine land called Colorado. What happened to the impecunious and with difficulty-breathing Jacob? He recovered from his bronchial derangement—but that is nothing. For he also discovered six large and plentiful silver mines. He is a rich man. If necessary, he could afford to take a bottle of the most expensive Pulmonic Panacea twice a day, and to employ a corps of doctors, allopathic, hydropothic, motorpathic, homoepathic, botanical and eclectical. But he scorns them. He breathes with the vigor of a bison. Consumption has stepped out—capital has stepped in. Let those whose tendency is to shortness both of funds and breath, go and do like-Weiss!—N. Y. Tribune.

Horace Greeley's Grave.

On the crest of Locust Hill, at Greenwood Cemetery, is the grave of Horace Greeley, still unmarked, and apparently uncared for. There is no mound over it, the line between the new laid sod and the old only distinguishes it from the rest of the hill. An iron park stool has been placed at the foot of the grave, and a small Fourth of July flag and the old cane of the great editor are by it. At the head of the grave are the ruins of floral offerings and the faded flag. The spot is difficult to find, and the only information that laborers can give is that Mr. Greeley's grave is over by the fountain somewhere. If the trifles that mark it were removed, the exact spot of the grave would soon become obliterated. Just beyond where the fountain plays is the splendid solid monument over the grave of B. F. Morse.

REV. THOMAS PYNCHON, D. D., was on Saturday last elected to the Presidency of Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, made vacant by the recent death of Rev. Abner Jackson, D. D.

POLAND, of Vermont, was voted for in the second election of his district, Nov. 3, and the result was: Denison, 8,280; Poland, 4,111; McLane, 1,545. The Boston Post wittily sums it up thus: "The Second Chapter of Luke—Poland's last defeat."

IT is seldom that a defeated candidate steps out of office temporarily amid such universal regret as that which has followed Mr. Wm. Walter Phelps. Not a journal of either party exults over his defeat, and all of the Republican and Independent journals speak of it as a National loss.

THE Allegan Journal, a paper published at Allegan and Otsego, Mich., flies the names of General William Tecumseh Sherman and Hon. Thomas White Ferry, of Michigan, at its mast head, as what it denominates "the coming men" for President and Vice President of the United States. The probability is its will be a very long time before they arrive at that destination.

A MONUMENT is soon to be erected in Calvary Cemetery, Memphis, in memory of Fathers Daley, Carey, O'Brien, Sheehy and Leo, and the Seven Sisters of the Order of St. Francis, all of whom fell victims to their zeal in attending to the sick of Memphis during the epidemic of yellow fever which prevailed last year. It is to be erected by the citizens. The height is eighteen feet from the base, and the width of the lower base is twelve feet: It will stand on a circular mound, and the graves of the Fathers arranged around it in a circle.

THE last Democratic Governor of Massachusetts was Marcus Morton. He was elected, in the fall of 1839, over Edward Everett, by one vote, and was Governor during 1840. In the fall of 1842, there was a triangular contest for Governor in that State, which resulted in no election by the people, and the election of Governor fell accordingly upon the Legislature. John Davis was the Whig candidate; and by a combination of all the anti-Whig elements in the Legislature against the Whig candidate, Marcus Morton was again made Governor. But 1839 was the last year in which a Democrat was elected Governor of Massachusetts by the direct vote of the people until the success of Mr. Gaston, last Tuesday, broke the monotony of Whig and Republican successes.

MR. CHARLES P. THOMPSON, Butler's successor in Congress, is described as follows by the Boston Herald: "He is rather above the medium hight, has a large full head, a keen eye, and wears a light sandy moustache and side-whiskers. He is about forty-seven years of age, though looking younger than that. He is a man of great personal popularity, having many friends, and few, if any, enemies. Among the brethren of the Essex Bar he goes by the familiar name of 'Charlie.' He resides and practices law in Gloucester, where he went in 1857. Mr. Thompson stands at the head of his profession in Essex county, and is in every way an able man—a man who will honor the old Essex district, and a man against whose public or private life not even the public slanderer who fought him dared say one word."

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THE body of a lady recently exhumed at Ephrata, New York, was found to be as hard as stone and to weigh 600 pounds, or 350 pounds more than at the time of burial.

JOSEPH WALLACE, son of a highly respected Baptist minister in Nordway county, Mo., shot and killed William Brush last Friday. An old grudge led to the fatal encounter.

THE latest fraud discovered in Chicago is that every reputed pound of baking powder is two or three ounces short in weight. How is it in Pittsburgh? Did any of our readers ever weigh any?

THE steamer Sacramento, belonging to the Central Pacific Railroad, at San Francisco on Wednesday was burned, only the hull and a small portion of the cargo being saved. The loss is about $20,000.

HUGH GAFFNEY, the steeple chase rider who was recently ruled off the Jerome Park course, has begun suit against Joseph Donahue, to recover $3,500, for wages and service. Donahue's horses at Pimlico course have been attached.

THE trotting race between Fullerton, Occident and Chicago in San Francisco, has been postponed until the 26th of November, the track being too heavy at present. There is much excitement over the great running race next Saturday.

WHEN the Oswego Express, on the Delaware, Lakawana & Western Railroad, arrived at Mauch Chunk last Tuesday evening, it was discovered that the car had been entered by robbers, and the safe of Wescott & Co.'s Express thrown out. The robbers forced an entrance from the top of the car.

THE New York Evening Post says: If the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is willing to make terms which will give the Pacific Railroad the tea and silk business, an arrangement can be made, and if not, the railroad companies will accept the English steamers which have been carrying them on easy terms, and use them as a line of their own between San Francisco, Japan and China.

THE International Typographical Union, which has undertaken the work of providing a statue or other suitable memorial over the grave of Horace Greeley, makes an appeal for further contributions. The committee have sufficient funds, probably, for a portrait bust. In the meantime the committee have assumed the care of the grave, which has been reported recently in a neglected condition.

THE Catholic priest, Father Gudemann, who the other day mysteriously disappeared from Philadelphia, has been heard from. Bishop Wood, as it appears, has received a letter from the fugitive stating that he has left the Catholic Church because he could not believe in the infallibility of the Pope, and he further says that "by the time you read this you will know all about me, and, therefore, I have no need to make an explanation." In his case, at least, the dogma of infallibility will not apply; but the plea that he cannot believe in the dogma will hardly avail him in a court of justice if they catch him.

THE low price of grapes this autumn is said to have been due more to the wide circuit from which the fruit was shipped to eastern markets than to the great yield in our local vineyards. The New York Times says that, owing to the fall in prices, vineyards in that State which have been worth $1,000 an acre, will now bring only from $100 to $200 per acre. It sees in this reduction of values an opportunity to secure a cheap native wine, not stronger than Burgundy, which shall take the place of spirituous liquors and contaminated drinking water. The reform to be worked by this American claret is "double back action"—moral as against spirituous liquors, sanitary as against drinking water contaminated by sewerage.

Sure Preventive to the Freezing of Water Pipes and Accidents of Similar Nature to Water Closets.

We beg leave to offer to the public our Patent Automatic Water Closet,
which is Anti-freezing and Inodorous. It is the most durable Closet in the market, for the following reasons: It will not freeze. It is strictly self-acting. It does not cause any re-acting and bursting of pipes. It is free from all obnoxious odors, and therefore will improve the sanitary condition of our cities. It has no valves to get out of repair and leak.

With our valuable improvement obnoxious cesspools in yards are dispensed with, as direct communication is made with the sewer pipe.

The public are invited to call at our salesroom, and examine this valuable improvement in operation, where its great advantages can be seen at a glance, or send for circular containing full particulars.

DR. WHITTIER,
NO. 296 PENN STREET,
PITTSBURGH, PA.,

Continues to treat with his usual great success, all Private Diseases. Perfect cures guaranteed.

Spermatorrhoea or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or sexual excess, producing nervous debility, night emissions, despondency, dizziness, dimness of sight, pimples on the face, weakness of mind and body, and finally impotency, loss of sexual power, sterility, &c., unfitting the victim for marriage or business, and rendering life miserable, are permanently cured in shortest possible time. Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, all urinary diseases and Syphilis (all forms), consisting of skin eruptions, ulcers, &c., are perfectly cured, and the blood poison thoroughly eradicated from the system.

DR. WHITTIER is a regular graduate of medicine, as his diploma at office shows; his life-long special experience in all private diseases, with purest medicines prepared by himself, enables him to cure difficult cases after others fail—It is self-evident that a physician treating thousands of cases every year acquires great skill. Consultation and correspondence private. Pamphlet sent sealed for two stamps. Medicines sent everywhere, by mail or express.

AN ORDINANCE—Granting the Petroleum Refiners Association of Pittsburgh the right to lay a pipe line.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the privilege be and is hereby granted to the Petroleum Refiners Association of Pittsburgh, to lay down, construct and maintain a line of pipes or tubing for the transportation of refined Petroleum from a point on the Allegheny river, at or near Negley's run, to a point on the Monongahela river, at or near Nine Mile run, crossing Penn avenue at one of the following points, to wit: Dallas avenue, Lang avenue, Homewood avenue or Park, or Brushton avenue, with such branch or branches as may be necessary to connect the several refineries and railroads with said main line, and enter upon, take up, use and occupy such avenues, streets, lanes or alleys as may be requisite for said purpose, except Fifth avenue, Penn avenue and Hiland avenue, which, however, they shall have the right to cross.

SEC. 2. The privileges hereby conferred are granted upon the following express conditions: First—That none of said branches thereof shall be extended to a point west of the western line of 32d street. Second—That said main line of pipes and branches shall be laid and work done in accordance with directions of the Committees on Streets and Roads and the City Engineer. Third—That said Association shall replace any and all pavements taken up in the prosecution of said work, and in making any repairs to the same satisfaction of the Street or Road Commissioner of the proper district, and the City Engineer within such time as shall be designated by them, not exceeding ten days from the taking up of the same and in case of neglect or refusal so to do the same shall be replaced by the Street or Road Commissioner at the cost of said Association. Fourth—That lines of pipes and branches shall be laid in such manner as not to interfere with water mains, gas pipes now laid and sewers now or hereafter to be laid. Fifth—That whenever any avenue, street or alley now or hereafter to be opened on or over the route upon which the lines of the pipes or branches thereof of said Association are laid shall be graded, the said line or lines of pipes or branches thereof shall be made to conform to the grade of said street at the cost of said Association to be made by said Association upon 10 days notice from the City Engineer. Sixth—That said Association shall receive and transfer the refined oil of any dealer or refiner at the same rates, and subject to such general rules as may be established by said Association.

SEC. 3. This ordinance shall be held to confer upon said Association such rights in the premises as the City of Pittsburgh has in the premises to grant and no more.

SEC. 4. The Councils reserve the right to resume the premises hereby granted whenever the interests of the public may render such resumption necessary and proper.

SEC. 5. Said Association shall file with the Controller of the city an agreement accepting the terms of this Ordinance, signed by the members of said Association.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, November 12, 1874.

There are two subjects of immediately local interest, that deserve the earnest attention of business men. The first is that of the readjustment of puddlers' rates, having in it the question of the continuance of work in our iron mills. It is a broad and very important question. If our mills shut down, another very important branch of industry, involving the closing up of many other business houses, will be idle. If the stoppage of the two Pacific Railroads severely crippled our iron manufactories, and thus injured business generally, the stoppage of our iron mills will exert similar influence on the business of the country, serving to retard activity once more. In view of this, we see the importance of a Board of Trade, such as it is proposed to organize today. This body will naturally take cognizance of such questions as that above referred to, and action would be taken in the light of the full presentation of facts. The importance of this Board of Trade organization is thus pressed upon our attention by events that are occurring from day to day.

The dividends declared by several of our banks show that the last half-year's business has been very comfortably successful.

We subjoin a statement of the rate of interest in the leading cities of the world, at the last advices. The first column is the bank rate, and the second the open market rate:

—The report so industriously circulated that the western people did not desire national banks, or more currency, we find that Western capital is steadily going into the business. Thus, only last week, four new banks were organized in the West and South, and it is not improbable that, unless there is unfavorable legislation in Congress, they will continue to increase at this rate. The banks organized last week were the Miners' National Bank of Georgetown, Col.; authorized capital, $150,000; paid in capital, $85,325; authorized to commence business Oct. 30, 1874; Mechanics' National Bank of Nashville, Tenn.; authorized capital, $100,000; paid in capital, $100,000; authorized to commence business Oct. 31, 1874. First National Bank of Tell City, Ind; authorized capital, $50,000; paid in capital, $30,000; authorized to commence business Nov. 2, 1874. Bundy National Bank of New Castle, Ind.; authorized capital, $50,000; paid in capital, $35,000; authorized to commence business Nov. 2, 1874.

—It is understood that the Comptroller of the Currency in his report will recommend that the existing currency act be unchanged, except by one or two minor amendments which he will propose. The officers of the Redemption Agency generally claim that the new law has been successful as a means for retiring mutilated currency, and are certain that during the next year the results will be much more satisfactory. During the five months of the operation of the law a little over $30,000,000 have been redeemed. Of this amount $20,000,000 have already been sent to the Comptroller, and the remaining $10,000,000 are nearly ready to be sent. It is claimed that the present force of experts can handle $10,000,000 monthly, or an average of $120,000,000 each year. This would entirely renew the national bank currency in three years. The Treasury officials are not agreed upon the question whether five per centum from the banks will prove sufficient to permanently continue the operations of the act. General Spinner, in his report, will renew some of his former recommendations with respect to specie resumption, and will some new views.

—The Secretary of the Treasury has lately called in $5,000,000 more of the 5-20's of 1862 for redemption. This will complete the arrangement with the Rothschild syndicate for $55,000,000. The first call was for $25,000,000, and matured 1st November; the second was for $15,000,000, and will mature 1st December; the third for $10,000,000, will mature 1st January; and the last call for $5,000,000 will mature 1st February. The manner in which the whole scheme has been dragged along, and the small amount of the last call, which indicates that the Rothschild syndicate do not intend to avail themselves of their option to take more than the first $55,000,000 which they had contracted for, creates the impression in financial circles that it will be difficult to market any more of the new 5 per cents in Europe at present. It is known that the Secretary can not redeem any more of the 5-20's until the new 5 per cents are sold.

—Secretary Bristow replies to a letter of Mr. Dawes that, in his opinion, considerable additions can be made to the free list of the tariff at the next session of Congress without any appreciable loss to the revenues. He places coal, coke, coffee, cocoa, hides and skins, paints, and particular kinds of drugs and chemicals, among the articles that may be freed from duties.

—It is a fact, but not generally noted, that the currency bonds of the Government sell at the highest price. They are quoted at 118, and yet they are payable, both principal and interest, in currency. Those who talk of repudiating the public debt, or of paying it in paper instead of gold in a certain contingency, will find some difficulty in reconciling this fact with their political theories. The amount of Government debts payable in currency 6s is $14,678,000.

NEW YORK, November 11, 1874.

The customs receipts were $164,000, and the Treasury disbursements $434,000. Sterling was firmer at 485 for sixty days and 488½@488¾ for sight. Gold opened and closed at 110¼. The carrying rates were 1, 1½, 2 and flat. Money closed at 2½@3½ per cent. off from the highest point of the day. The clearings were $28,617,000. Government bonds were strong. Railroad bonds were firm and in request. State bonds were quiet and closed strong. Stocks advanced ¼@⅝ in early dealings, but after the first board became heavy and prices declined ¼@¾ per cent. in the entire list. During the last hour the market was weak for all but Lake Shore, and generally closed at the lowest prices of the day. The decline was most marked in Erie, Pacific Mail, Union Pacific, Ohio & Mississippi, and C. C. & I. C. The transactions aggregated 150,000 shares, of which 11,000 were Western Union, 19,000 Pacific Mail, 6,000 Erie, 35,000 Lake Shore, 23,000 Union Pacific, 18,000 Ohio & Mississippi, and 7,000 C. COMMERCIAL.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH DAILY MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, Nov. 11, 1874.

The general inactivity noted in commercial circles for some time past, still continues; this is apparent to any one who will take the trouble to make a tour of observation through our principal business streets. We notice that some of our cotemporaries keep harping away about business being active, and they are also predicting that it will continue so, but such is not the case; the fact is, business in all its varied branches, is very much curtailed as compared with what it usually is at this season of the year, and our most observant and intelligent merchants and manufacturers, whose opinions are entitled to consideration, do not anticipate any material or permanent improvement until January, perhaps February. Orders for goods of all kinds are very much restricted, indicating a determination on the part of people to carry no more stock than they can possibly help, and, furthermore, the masses, as a rule, are buying nothing they can do without. We would like to see business active, but there is no sense in representing it to be so, when the very reverse is the case.

APPLES—The arrivals continue to keep up well, and notwithstanding the demand is increasing, the supply is accumulating, and prices are no better; selling, in a jobbing way, at $1.50@2 ₩ bbl for common to medium, and $2.50@3 for prime to choice.

APPLE BUTTER—Dull; 60@65c ₩ gallon.

BEANS—The receipts continue meagre and the supply is small, although fully equal to the demand, hence prices remain as last quoted; $2@2.25 per bushel, as to quality.

BROOM CORN—Is in light supply, and, under the influence of recent advices from the west, the market continues firm with an upward tendency.

BUTTER—The market continues quiet, and notwithstanding the arrivals continue light, the supply is fully equal to the demand, which is unusually small for this season of the year; prices unchanged; prime to choice roll, 27@30c—some dealers quote choice at 32c.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—3½@4c ₩ ℔.

CHESTNUTS—Dull; $2.50@3.

CRANBERRIES—Quiet and unchanged; selling at $10@15 ₩ bbl, according to quality, the outside figure for Sacketts.

CHEESE—The market continues steady, but devoid of any new features worthy of notice. We continue to quote Ohio Factory at 16½@17 and New York do. at 17½@18. Our New York dispatch reports that market unchanged.

EGGS—The supply of fresh, although not large, is fully equal to the demand, which is always small when they have to be retailed at 33@35c—there are very few buyers except bakers and hotels. Quotations may be fairly given at 29@30 for fresh and 20@25 for pickled.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in trade here, and prices continue weak, although without quotable change. Spring wheat flours, $5.75@6 for Wisconsin's and $6.25@6.50 for Minnesotas; winters, $5.75@6.25 for red and $6.75@7 for white. Rye Flour, $5.50 to $5.75.

GROCERIES—Our Eastern advices continue to report Coffee dull, and notwithstanding the supply in first hands is comparatively small, the general tone of the market is in buyers' favor. A late Rio telegram reports a further decline in prices there—following is the substance of the dispatch in question, which bears date of the 7th instant: Receipts for the week, 80,000 bags; purchases for the United States, same time, 16,000 bags; stock, 230,000 bags; price, 8-700. Exchange, 26⅝d. The stock of Rio Coffee, in first hands, on Monday evening, was as follows: New York, 17,800 bags; Baltimore, 2,200 bags; Hampton Roads, 10,514 bags; Charleston, 4,000 bags; Savannah, 2,500 bags; New Orleans, 5,500 bags; Galveston, 5,000 bags. Sugars continue dull and weak, and we reduce our quotations slightly. New crop New Orleans Molasses have commenced to come forward, and J. S. Dilworth & Co., we believe, are entitled to the credit of having received the first shipment this year.

GRAIN—Business in grain circles has been dull for over a week past, but as the receipts have commenced to fall off, we look for a revival within the next few days again. Negotiations are still pending between the members of the Exchange and the railroad officials in regard to an equalization of freights, and it is hoped and expected that some good will come out of the conference; all our merchants ask for, is to be placed on an equal footing with Western shippers, and to this they are certainly entitled. Wheat continues quiet, but prices remain without quotable change. Penna and Ohio Wheat is still quoted at $1.12@1.15 for red and amber and white at $1.18@1.20. The Oat market remains substantially as noted in our last report; selling at 56½@60 cents for common mixed to prime white, mostly at 58@59. New ear Corn continues in light supply and firmer; 65@67c on track, and new shelled is also scarce and stronger; quotable at 68@72, in elevator, according to quality and condition; old shelled continues dull but unchanged at 80@82. Rye quiet at $1@1.05. It is difficult to quote Barley.

HAY—The arrivals of baled continue light, and the market is firmer in consequence, although the demand continues light, and prices are without quotable change, ranging from $18 to $22 ₩ ton, as to quality and condition. Loose is selling from country wagons at $25@30.

ONIONS—$2@4 ₩ bbl.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued steady demand for the hog product, and the general tone of the market is stronger, in sympathy with the recent advance in hogs, although prices remain unchanged.

POTATOES—The receipts continue liberal, and there is not much doubt but what the market will soon begin to feel the effects of these heavy shipments, as it is evident that the trade generally must be well supplied. Peach Blows, cannot, we understand, be quoted above 85 cents by the carload, although some dealers still claim that 90c can be realized for choice. Peerless and Early Rose, 65 to 75 cents. Sweets in light supply and firmer; $3 to $3.50 ₩ bbl for Baltimores, and $4.50 to $5 for Jerseys.

POULTRY—Live Chickens, 40@50c ₩ pair; dressed, 12@13c ₩ ℔. Live Turkeys, 80c to $1; dressed, 15@17.

RAGS—quiet and unchanged; good mixed, 2¾@3 cts; woolen ½c ₩ ℔.

SEEDS—There is nothing doing, and in the absence of sales we omit quotations.

TALLOW—Continues scarce, and the market is quoted firm at quotations; country, 7@7½c; city, 8@8½.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, Nov. 11, 1874.

The market for Crude is quiet and devoid of any new features worthy of notice; a dispatch from Parker this P. M. reported a sale, on Pittsburgh account, at 76¼ per bbl, for immediate shipment. If anything, there is more inquiry for refined, and this, together with more favorable foreign advices, has caused a better feeling, although there is no improvement in prices; sale of 3,500 bbls in Philadelphia, for immediate delivery, at 10¾, and 10½ was bid for Baltimore delivery.

The receipts of crude this time last year were heavy, running from 6,000 barrels to 12,000 barrels per day, and the exports were also large, in two weeks last November they footed up some 42,000 barrels, showing a very decided difference as compared with this November. Crude was as low at this time last year as it is now, but refined was much higher, 13@13½, delivered in Philadelphia, and it should be borne in mind that freights were much cheaper then than now. In a word, last November our refiners were running to their full capacity, doing well for themselves and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., too, while this November the situation is entirely different.

The Barrel trade continues dull and neglected, while prices remain unchanged: countries, $1.30; city make, $1.40.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS,
WEDNESDAY, Nov. 11, 1874.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals from and including Sunday up until noon to-day, as well as those of the corresponding time last week:

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
Sunday	78 cars.	50 cars.	10 cars.
Monday	6 "	8 "	4 "
Tuesday	126 "	24 "	24 "
Wednesday	43 "	30 "	22 "
Total	253 "	112 "	71 "
Same time last week	161 "	124 "	86 "

CATTLE.

The activity and firmness which characterized the market still continues, and the advance then established is fully sustained; the volume of business is considerably in excess of the same time last week, the best evidence of which is that the sales aggregate 2,041 head against 1,091 head. There is an increased number of buyers in attendance; the Philadelphia delegation is larger than it has been for some time, in addition to which, there are at least an average number from New York, as well as from the eastern part of the State, and, with a sharp competition, sellers have no difficulty in realizing full last week's rates. Last week buyers, in consequence of the sharp advance, held off in hopes of increased receipts and lower prices, but this week they pitched in almost as soon as they arrived, and some of them put in an appearance on Tuesday, who ordinarily do not reach here until Wednesday. That the market opened earlier than last week, will be seen by the following report of sales:

	This Week.	Last Week.
Monday	279 head.	98 head.
Tuesday	801 "	500 "
Wednesday	961 "	493 "
Total	2,041 "	1,091 "

In regard to prices, however, we do not think there has been any quotable change; the supply of prime shipping steers is comparatively light, and this particular kind might have brought a fraction more, but it is certain, as already stated, that the market is strong, at full prices for all kinds. We heard of nothing having been sold above 6¾, but we are satisfied that there would have been no difficulty in realizing a ¼ additional, providing that the right kind of stock had been forthcoming. Some of the buyers claimed that sellers generally were holding their cattle higher than last week, but the sales, from what we could learn, did not show any advance—it is one thing to ask an advance, and quite another to obtain it, as it is not what a man asks but what he can realize, that makes the market.

QUOTATIONS.

REVIEW OF THE CHICAGO MARKET FOR OCTOBER—UNPRECEDENTED RECEIPTS.

Of the market at Chicago for the month of October the Live Stock Reporter remarks: In point of numbers the general supply of live stock in this market during the past month far exceeds all previous Octobers in its history, whilst the quality and condition of the stock offered was, without exception, the most mixed and inferior. For weeks past we have had quite a stampede of cattle from western pastures to the market, and to such an extent that from Illinois to the seaboard every market, great or small, has been filled to repletion. Under the most favorable circumstances October is a poor and unsatisfactory month for our Western cattle trade, owing largely to the very inferior quality of the supply then placed upon the market, and, further, to a falling off in the consumptive demand for beef. Therefore, with only an average supply of cattle, the trade of the past month would probably have been very similar to all preceding Octobers, but with an increase of 30 ₩ cent. over the largest receipts of former years, and these, too, almost exclusively made up of unmatured and inferior stock, the market could only have been as it has, most thoroughly demoralized. As an inevitable result, prices have suffered materially, though not to the extent we might reasonably have anticipated, the principal decline having been on native stockers, feeders' and butchers' cattle. Certainly stock cattle have not sold as low for ten or twelve years past as in October, while native butchers' cattle suffered nearly as much. And at these prices no class of operators have derived the slightest advantage. Eastern and Western shippers and carcass butchers have been losers, many of them to the extent of their very all.

HOGS.

The "run" thus far, as will be seen, has been somewhat less than that of the corresponding time last week, and with more favorable weather and an increased demand, the market is firm, and prices, as compared with Saturday, have advanced from 25 to 30 cents ₩ cwt. Philadelphia hogs were sold to-day at 7 cents; Orr & Williams realized 7,15 for one car, but then they were a fine lot of hogs, and cannot be taken as a fair index of the market; Yorkers selling at 6 to 6,30, according to quality and condition. While prices are regarded as being a little inflated here, it is well enough to bear in mind that we are not any higher relatively than Cincinnati or Chicago, and it is not reasonable to expect any decline here as long as they keep up there, as these two markets, to a considerable extent, control the West, and upon the West we are entirely dependent for supplies.

SHEEP.

The market was active and strong, but in regard to prices there is a difference of opinion; all concede that trade is active, but some operators claim that prices were no better than last week, while others, again, quoted an advance. The "run," as will be seen, was more than double that of the corresponding time last week, but there was an increased demand; hence, notwithstanding the increased supply, there was more activity. Quotations may be given as follows: Prime 100 ℔ fine wool 5¼ to 5¾; 90@95 ℔, 4¾@5; 80 to 85 ℔s, 4¼ to 4½; 70 to 75 ℔s, 3¾@4. There was one bunch of extra, averaging 117 ℔s, for which 5¾ was obtained. Lambs sold at from 5,00 to 6,50 according to quality, weight and condition.

Cincinnati Iron Market.

CINCINNATI Nov. 10.—Wm. Means, in his circular, says: There are no new developments in favor of the Iron trade, unless it is that it can not become worse. The universal feeling is one of depression. It is generally considered that the bottom has been reached, and that a forward movement must be upward and onward. If this should not be the case, and the fact becomes established that time must elapse before there can be any improvement in this department, the question becomes one of time only. The reports from New York indicate a buoyant feeling, on account of the recent elections, which it is to be hoped may soon be confirmed as regards Iron matters. The manufacturers of this city are so thoroughly identified with this great interest that it is impossible to ignore them, and the prosperity of Cincinnati depends upon them largely; so much so that with their success we stand, and without it we fail.

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Sergeant, Signal Service, U. S. A.

Weather clear and colder last evening, with wind from the north-west. Prospects for water are not as favorable as they have been, and boatmen generally have given up all hope of a rise until after there has been a fall of snow.

Will Lamothe, a well known steamboat clerk, died at Alton, Ill., last week, of consumption. He leaves a wife and child.

—Yesterday's Cincinnati Commercial says: The pilots on the mail boats say that only a few loose stones have been removed from the sunken stone-boat, at Rising Sun, which has been a long standing obstruction at that place, and that it is as much in the way as ever. The party having the contract to remove the stone-boat was also under agreement to remove the logs in the way there, but nothing has yet been done in that direction......Captain Dan. McAleer, the Pittsburgh weather prophet, is in the city in the interest of the coal trade. He says there are ten million bushels of coal loaded in barges in the river awaiting a rise at the head waters. He does not anticipate sufficient water this month to let coal boats out.——Boston, twenty-five miles below Louisville, is said to be the worst place in the river between Louisville and Cairo.——The T. F. Eckert succeeded in raising the Joe Kinney, sunk at Cairo, Monday night. The damage to the boat is slight, but all of the hull, cargo and part of the deck freight is seriously damaged. She was partly insured in Eastern agencies in Cincinnati. None of the home companies have risks on the Kinney. The Kinney is in her third season, and was built at Madison, Indiana.——Captain Robt. W. Wise has engaged Captain James Madison and Hack Kelsoe to pilot the Jas. D. Parker, in the Memphis trade this season, for $75 each, per round trip. The Association pilots have fixed their wages at $100 per trip.—The Gazette of same date says: Capt. John V. Reynolds has purchased, of J. H. Grogan, Brownstown, W. Va., his two-sixteenths interest in the Kanawha packet, Julia No. 2. Captain Reynolds has also sold to W. E. Truslow two-sixteenths, and to Captain Samuel Christy two-sixteenths of the same steamer, at the rate of $10,000 for the whole boat. The present owners of the Julia, therefore, are as follows: Capt. Reynolds, nine-sixteenths; W. E. Truslow, two-sixteenths; Samuel Christy, two-sixteenths; Charles Rooke, two-sixteenths; John Ruffin, one-sixteenth.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Tuesday says:—Freights scarce for New Orleans, tonnage abundant, rates low. For flour 45 cents and pound freight 22½ cents are rates not at all for boat owners to boast of.

The St. Louis Globe of Tuesday says: Mr. Bob. Patterson, (one of the best known mates on the Lower Mississippi river,) it will be remembered, was so unfortunate as to break his leg last spring. He has been laid up in Pennsylvania for nearly six months, but returned yesterday perfectly restored, and is now ready to take any first-class berth that is offered.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says: William Collins, engineer on the Columbia, a stern-wheel steamer of three hundred and seventy-five tons, built here two years ago last June, for Magdalena River, South America, returned home yesterday morning. He has been on the boat ever since she left here, without losing a day. She was sixty-eight days on the open sea going over. Mr. Collins came home to remove his family to South America, which shows that he, after two years experience, is pleased with the country. He reports that engineers there get $150 ₩ month in gold, and all expenses paid, and no deduction for loss of time, but that pilots are generally natives, and get small wages. He also says the Magdalena is a rough river to navigate. Mr. Collins expects to remain here till March.

—A St. Louis paper says: The model of Emmerson & Doyle's wing-dam and sectional steamboat, formerly on exhibition at the Merchants' Exchange has been taken to the rooms of the Pilots' Association, where it is receiving the heartiest indorsements. As soon as an appropriation is made for the improvement of the Ohio river, the Government engineers will adopt the wing-dam for improving the channel. The one used at the dump in the St. Louis harbor has been removed, having cut out 3 feet of hard gravel.

—There is a class of thieves in New Orleans who cause great loss to honest people, with little gain to themselves. Each bale of cotton is obliged to have a certain number of ties, which cost steamers twenty-five cents each to replace if missing. The thieves referred to steal these ties, selling them to the low dens, coffee-houses, and slums for five cents, and it is impossible, so small is the amount, to obtain a conviction; yet in a month, on a large number of bales, the loss is considerable.

—The Louisville Courier says: Col. McClosky, of Pittsburgh, has come down and taken full possession of little Goose Island, six miles above the city. He will establish a coal-yard upon it, and has built a house and put "Injun" Bill Smith in it to run the island. Sweet William is now in his glory, and will "run that thar island to suit hisself."

—By sharp figuring it has been ascertained that ninety trillion cubic feet of rain-water falls in the Mississippi river each year, and that this amount of water is sufficient to form a lake 720 miles long, 100 miles wide, and 50 feet deep.

—Schricker & Mueller, lumbermen of Davenport, have just bought the raft-boat St. Croix, from Captain George Winnes, of Chippewa Falls. The price, we understand, was $6,000. It is calculated that a raft tow-boat will pay for itself in one year.

—The bend in the Mississippi River below Cairo is a grave-yard of old wrecks, the surface of the water being covered with "breaks" on every hand. It is a dangerous place to navigation.

—The Nellie Peck was libeled at Omaha on the 3d for wood purchased a year ago. She gave bond and was released.

INSPECTING GENERAL'S REPORT.

How Most Lives Are Lost.

Mr. Burnett, Supervising Inspecting-General of Steamboats, has made his annual report to the Secretary of the Treasury. The following are the principal points:

The record for five calender years, ending with 1873, shows that the number of steam vessels annually inspected is steadily increasing, the whole number in 1869 being 2,948; and in 1873, 3,743; the annual addition being, in 1870, 154 vessels; in 1871, 195; in 1872, 147; and in 1873, 299.

The record of loss of life for 1873 shows a marked improvement, the total number of lives lost from all causes being 222, while the average for the four years immediately preceding is 356. The lives lost by explosions are only ten, which is by far the smallest number ever recorded in one year, the total for the five years being 417, and the average for the four preceding years being about 102.

The lives lost by fire in 1873 were 119, being greater than from all other causes combined. For 1872 the lives lost by fire bear even a larger proportion to the aggregate loss from other causes. The same is true of 1869.

This is a matter demanding the most serious attention and inquiry on the part of the inspectors and owners of steam vessels, and there can not be a doubt but that thorough and earnest investigation into the causes which produce such disasters, will be attended with the best results. Surely in every case either the construction, arrangement, equipment or management is faulty in some particular, which a searching investigation must disclose. It is believed that a more thorough scrutiny on the part of inspectors in making their examination, and a like watchful care in the management of steamers by their officers, is only required, and the loss of life by fire would be an extremely rare occurrence, if it did not cease to have a place in our records.

The lives lost by collisions in 1873 are 7. At one time collisions were a fruitful source of loss of life, but, by the adoption of more perfect regulations and the experience gained in their use, the loss from this cause seems to be almost uniformly reduced to about the number here stated. The lives lost by snag, wreck and sinking are 86, which is about ten per cent. less than the average for the four preceding years. The lives lost in 1869, from all causes, were 577; in 1870, 180; in 1871, 361; in 1872, 306; in 1873, 222. These details show the year 1863 to have been a successful one in obtaining in a high degree the aims of the laws for the protection of life on steam vessels; but there is reason to believe that through the improved administration and better regulation of the service, the results will be far surpassed in the future. My recent return to the service has not afforded sufficient time to enable me intelligently present for your consideration any features of the present law, which may appear to require amendment. I may suggest, however, that the present demand on the time of inspectors for the performance of yearly clerical duties, is a very serious hindrance to the highest success of the service, and would seem to require a remedy. I firmly believe that, with proper encouragement to the officers engaged in this professional service, by securing to them, in view of the judicial character of their duties, immunity from liability of removal on other grounds than inefficiency, a degree of safety to life on steam vessels may be reached far superior to the most sanguine present anticipations.

HOME NEWS.

Steamboat Inspector's Report, &c.

Our River Department, on the third page, is unusually interesting this morning, containing, in addition to the large amount of other matter, the report of the Supervising-Inspector of Steamboats, showing how many lives are lost, and an account of the steamboat wrecks on the Mississippi river—to which we invite the attention of all those interested in such matters.

Cincinnati Officials.

Yesterday morning Mayor Johnston of Cincinnati, accompanied by Messrs. M. Corbett, E. A. Tripp, W. W. Lutton, Jno. F. Watchman, Jacob Gardner, E. A. DeCamp, Wm. Price and John D. Banks, composing the Board of Public Works, arrived in the city and spent the day. They were shown around by Mr. McDowell, a gentleman interested in vulcanite pavement.

The Richmond "Review."

The first number of a 24-column journal of the above name has been sent us by Mr. O. M. Waring, to whom has been assigned the editorial charge. With Mr. Waring we have such acquaintance and correspondence (especially while for some years he superintended Freedmen's Schools in Alabama under the auspices of the Freedmen's Aid Society of this city) as gives us assurance that the Review will be edited with marked ability. Among the colored men of our country we know of no one more erudite, scholarly and [illegible] than O. M. Waring. We know his paper will deserve, [illegible] trust it will receive, ample encouragement. We have not space for the whole excellent salutatory, the conclusion [illegible] we quote as follows:

"[illegible] the Review will be the special organ of the colored people of the State (Virginia)—and we believe that such a journal is one of the necessities of the times in which we live—we shall have no line of policy looking toward the engendering of ill-feeling between citizens or toward the building up of unjust class distinctions; and while we shall at all times be free to enter upon the discussions concerning the welfare of our State, we shall always studiously aim to avoid giving unnecessary offence, even to those who may differ from us in opinion. "With malice toward none" who may have injured us, and "With charity for all," whom we think in error, we shall leave no means untried to make the Review a journal worthy of the motives which have led to its publication and shall hope to see it make its way to a fair share of popular favor."

A CONSTABLE'S MISTAKE.

A Hearing Yesterday Before U. S. Commissioner Gamble.

Hary Moore was brought before U. S. Commissioner Gamble yesterday, charged with seizing five thousand cigars from the factory of F. C. Wagner, South Side, mention of which has already been made in these columns. It will be remembered that Mr. Moore is one of Alderman Krehan's constable's, and that he seized the cigars a few days ago to satisfy a judgment, but they were unstamped, so action was brought against him for a violation of the Act of Congress, in removing them from the factory before having the proper revenue tax paid upon them.

After a hearing, he was held to bail in the sum of $500 to answer to the charge at the next term of the U. S. District Court.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A German Crushed Under a Mass of Earth.

Last evening shortly before six o'clock an accident occurred on the side of Spring Hill, Allegheny, above Madison avenue, which resulted in the death of a German named Adam Schaffer. He had been engaged in excavating on a private road, near a stone quarry, for a cellar for a new house, when, suddenly a mass of earth caved in on him, and before he could get away, was covered by it. A woman on the opposite hill saw the accident and notified several men, who at once ran to his assistance, and soon had dug him out, but he was dead, when taken out. The body was removed to his residence on Concord street, and the Coroner notified, who repaired to the spot and empannelled a jury and a verdict in accordance with the above facts was rendered.

Deceased was about 28 years of age and leaves a wife and two children.

THE LAST TRIBUTE.

Funeral of the Rev. Wm. Owens.

Yesterday morning the funeral of the Rev. Wm. Owens took place from the old Welsh Baptist church on Chatham street. There was a very large concourse of mourning friends in attendance—more than sufficient to fill the church to overflowing. The church was heavily draped in black crape, and a life-size portrait of the deceased pastor, pointed in oil, was suspended above the pulpit, which was also draped in black crape. The remains were placed before the pulpit stand, and a framed parchment copy of a preamble and resolution complimenting the service of his pastor from his congregation, which the deceased prized very highly, was suspended above the pulpit.

The funeral sermon was preached by the Rev. Howard Evans, of New York, and the services conducted by Rev. Dr. Pearson and other ministers. A procession of citizens was then formed to lead the way, followed by the carriages, to the Allegheny Cemetery. At the Cemetery gate the combined choirs of all the Welsh churches of the two cities and vicinity met the procession, and sang appropriate hymns on the line of march until reaching the grave, where the usual services were observed, and the mourners then dismissed.

FUNERAL OF PROF. NEWELL.

Yesterday morning the friends of the late Prof. James R. Newell assembled in numbers that overflowed the house, at No. 255 Penn avenue, to pay the last tribute of respect to one whom they had loved and whose memory they held dear. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. F. A. Noble, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, this city, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Hunter, of Wilkinsburg. They were observed in accordance with the beautiful and solemnly impressive ceremony of the Presbyterian Church and continued an hour, after which the casket was closed and the remains removed to the hearse by eight pall-bearers, consisting of Messrs. W. Wills, W. C. MacCrum, W. A. Burchfield, S. McCreary and Messrs. W. S. King, J. B. Morgan, Jr., S. W. Hay and B. W. Everson, four of his old students. The flowers were beautiful, of which a large number were sent here by his pupils of Cincinnati. They consisted of a wreath, anchor, star, crown, and many other beautiful floral decorations. The remains were laid to rest in Uniondale Cemetery.

WORK OF HIGHWAYMEN.

Dick Turpins on the Perrysville Road—A German Farmer Attacked and Shot—His Life Despaired Of—Robbery the Object—The Perpetrators Traced to Allegheny City—The Police on Their Heels.

Several years ago the roads leading from Allegheny City to the country districts were the scenes of the operations of a number of bold highwaymen, and several farmers returning to their homes after attending markets were attacked, and some severely injured by the footpads, but during the past year it was thought that these scoundrels had quit their operations. Last evening, however, they gave evidence of their presence on the Perrysville Plank road by seriously injuring a German farmer named Walz. It appears that he had been in the city yesterday and started home, but shortly before seven o'clock he stopped at the house of Jacob Born, and after staying a short time drove on again. He had with him, seated in his wagon, a little man, who has for some years been traveling through that country mending clocks. Soon after he left, a pistol shot was heard in the direction he had gone, but nothing was thought of it until a few minutes subsequent, when Mr. Christ. Froehlich drove up, and said he had narrowly escaped running into a team some distance behind, and had heard a man in the wagon say he was shot. It was soon learned that Walz had been attacked by two highwaymen, and that upon his resisting them, one of robbers had shot him, while the other struck the clock repairer on the head, inflicting a severe wound. Before they could proceed any further, they were frightened off by hearing the approach of Mr. Froehlich's buggy and made their escape, but in the darkness it could not be seen in which direction they went.

Mr. Walz, who had been shot in the left side, near the lower part of the ribs, was conveyed to Shaler's Hotel by parties who had arrived by this time, and physicians sent for. He was then in a dying condition and was unable to speak.

During the latter part of the afternoon two suspicious-looking men had been seen loitering along the road between Borns and Shaler's taverns, and were noticed by a number of persons. There seems to be no doubt but that they committed the deed. One of them was a tall, well-dressed man, with dark clothes, clean shirt and gold studs. He wore a cap, and had a mustache and goatee. His language had a clear Irish accent. The other was a short heavy set man and not so well dressed as his companion. He carried a package under his arm.

As soon as Mr. Born heard of the affray, he drove towards the city and while on the way discovered the trace of these two men. Upon arriving at the head of Buena Vista street, some boys informed him that the two men had passed there but a short time before. He then drove to the Mayor's office with all haste and notified the police.

Two officers were detailed to watch each bridge, and the entire force was notified of the murder, and furnished full description[illegible] men, and instructed to keep a g[illegible] for them, while several of the detect[illegible] other officers started out to [illegible] them [illegible] with good chances of effecting their ar[illegible] by morning.

Mr. Walz [illegible] the injured man, is a stone mason by tr[illegible], and formerly resided in the Eighth war[illegible] Allegheny, but some years ago he remo[illegible] to a farm on Lowrie's Run, about nine [illegible] from Allegheny, where he has been far[illegible]ng ever since.

Self-Ra[illegible]ing Buckwheat Flour.

This flour [illegible] prepared for instant use. All that is necessary is to make a batter with sweet milk or water, and your cakes are ready to bake; it saves the trouble of setting sponge and keeping it along from day to day; it makes a lighter, sweeter and more toothsome cake than can be had in any other way. Sold in six pound sacks by all the grocers. Also a superior quality of self-raising wheat flour for biscuit, cakes and pastry. Put up by S. S. MARVIN & Co.

THE CULTURE OF BEES.

Fourth Annual Session of the North American Bee Keepers' Society—Meeting at Germania Hall—Address by President Hoagland—Discussion of a Number of Interesting Topics.

Yesterday morning the fourth annual session of the North American Bee Keepers' Association commenced at Germania Hall, corner of Wood street and Diamond alley. The society, it is said, numbers between three hundred and four hundred members, but not over one hundred were present yesterday. The last annual meeting was held at Louisville, Kentucky. At ten o'clock President Hoagland, of Mercer, called the Convention to order. Nothing of importance was transacted during the forenoon, and the meeting was of rather an informal nature. On motion a committee, consisting of Rev. W. F. Clark, H. A. King, and Mrs. E. S. Tupper, was appointed to prepare business for the afternoon session and suggest topics for discussion. After the appointment of a couple of gentlemen to assist Mr. Abner J. Pope, the secretary, to prepare the proceedings of the session for publication in pamphlet form, the Society adjourned until the afternoon.

Afternoon Session.

When the Society met again in the afternoon, President Hoagland opened the proceedings by delivering the following address:

Ladies and Gentlemen of the American Bee Keepers' Society:

Not being present at the last annual meeting, at Louisville, Ky., I would embrace the present opportunity of thanking you for the honor you have conferred upon me, in selecting me to preside over your deliberations. Any errors I may commit, I hope you may attribute to the right source—the head and not the heart. Bee keeping, although not so popular a pursuit as many others, is none the less edifying and profitable. The honey bee is almost the only insect that has been domesticated by man, and aside from its giving us wealth and delicious luxury, it possesses many charms, and is a study for the naturalist. This is only the fourth session of a continental society in our land for the purpose of investigating and learning of the wonders of this little insect. For ages past, organizations have been effected by our best men to develop the various agricultural resources of the land. And during the same period the most industrious bees of our continent have been consigned to the ignominy of a death by fire and brimstone. If apiarians had given the time and attention in selecting the males and females of the largest and most industrious, prolific and docile colonies to breed from, with the same care, shrewdness and attention that has been practiced with horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, we would not be under the necessity of importing Queens from Italy, but would have a race of bees much superior to the Italians. Man cannot obtain labor from any other source as cheap as from the honey-bee. They work for nothing and board themselves. Only requiring house rent free. According to the census returns of 1850 the amount of wax and honey produced in the United States was 14,853,790 pounds; in 1860, 126,386,855 pounds. With the increased attention given to the pursuit, together with the increase of colonies, we have no doubt but the present returns will show a vast increase of product. Possessing, as we do in America, a genial climate and a fertile soil, susceptible of the production of richly varied honey, producing plants and flowers, with a due degree of knowledge and enterprise, the bees could be increased to an extent that the profit arising therefrom would pay all our taxes, and supply our tables daily with one of the choicest luxuries of life. Many of the best men of our land are now employed in acquiring practical knowledge of the nature and habits of the honey-bee. The science is advancing steadily, and the future is big with developments in apiarian pursuits.

From the temporary Business Committee, Mr. King presented the following report:

1. That the election of officers be deferred until to-morrow, to take place at a time to be designated by the Business Committee. 2. That the following topics be discussed this afternoon: First—"Advantages of Bee-Keeping." Second—"How is the Queen produced from the Worker Egg." Third—"The Sting of the Honey Bee," to be introduced by a paper by Rev. W. F. Clark. Fourth—Securing Swarms," to be introduced by President Hoagland. Fifth—"Adulteration of Honey," to be introduced by a paper from Rev. H. A. King.

The report was adopted and Mrs. Tupper, who is a very fluent and pleasant speaker, introduced the first topic on the list. She said she could not imagine why she had been called upon to open the discussion on this topic, unless it was for the reason that females are supposed to be always ready to say something, whether they can talk to the point or not. She then proceeded to state some of the advantages of bee keeping, and claimed that it was not only profitable, but that the presence of bees in and about orchards and vineyards, tended to increase the yields from vines and trees. In support of these the lady referred to observations made by herself. She also claimed that bee raising was specially advantageous to ladies, who were thus afforded not only pleasant and profitable occupation, but also gave them outdoor work, and thus benefitted their general health. She spoke briefly on the question of profit, and claimed that there was no other business which offered such strong inducements to those who wished to make money. The question was further discussed by other members and many interesting, and to an inexperienced man novel and entertaining ideas, were evolved. The other topics were all taken up in their order and disposed of, the members generally participating in the talk. Regarding the sting of the honey bee Rev. W. F. Clark read a very valuable and instructive paper, in which he stated that it is a subject that has been much neglected by the authors of treatises on the bee and its habits. He then gave a detailed account of the formation of the sting and of the manner in which the insect injects poison into whatever attacks it. He claimed that in proportion to its size the bee is the best armed and most formidable of any living thing.

President Hoagland told his experience of the best way to secure swarms of bees. Mr. Pope said he had frequently got swarming bees into their hives merely by whistling, and attributed his success to the supposition that his whistling must resemble the humming noise made by the bees. Mrs. Tupper thought it better to go directly to the root of the matter and prevent swarming, which she was of the opinion could be done with care and attention.

The supper hour having arrived, the Society adjourned after appointing the following Committee to prepare business for the evening session. H. A. King, W. F. Clark, Mrs. E. S. Tupper, D. L. Brown, A. Chapman, Aaron Benedict and J. W. Winder.

Evening Session.

At seven o'clock the Society re-convened, when the Business Committee submitted the following subjects for discussion during the evening: 1—Queen raising; best mode of introducing queens into frames and box hives, and drone preservation. 2—Adulteration of honey. 3—Moving bees to other localities for wintering or pasturage, suggested by the question, "Would it be practicable and profitable to ship bees in the fall by boat from Eastern Ohio to some point on the Mississippi river in Louisiana to remain, say until May, returning by rail in time for clover bloom?" 4—Best method of inducing bees to breed late in the fall, and is it wise to resort to it? 5—Bee forage, with special inquiry, "Can bee keeping, as a business, be successfully prosecuted in a locality producing a large amount of white clover, but no other source except locust and fruit bloom in spring?" 6—Wintering bees under glass. 7—Prevention of honey candying. 8—Suggestions to the Business Committee of the time and place for the next annual meeting.

The first topic was discussed for over an hour, and nearly all the members participated in the debate, as the subject seemed to be one of peculiar interest. The second topic was to have been introduced by the reading of a paper by Mr. H. A. King, but the gentleman being absent, it was skipped. Regarding the removal of bees to other localities, Mrs. Tupper related an instance of the experiment of a friend of her's, who removed his bees on a boat to Northern Iowa, and that during the journey they not only thrived well, but appeared to enjoy the trip, and three harvests were reaped from them in that one season. She said they were well taken care of, preserved from the heat of the sun during the day, and allowed to fly about for three hours every evening. Mr. Brown, of Tennessee, said it required more to feed bees in the South than in the North. Mr. Chapman was of the opinion that the expense of removing bees to the South would more than overbalance the profit. Mr. Rush said that in Washington county last winter, of the colony of bees kept in his cellar, it required about forty pounds of honey to feed them through the winter, and about twenty-five pounds to feed the colony kept outside. The increased consumption on the part of the cellar bees he attributed to the fact that they brought forth a young brood in the spring, while the other colony did not. He stated that in correspondence with a couple of Southern gentlemen, he had learned that in the localities of Shreveport, Louisiana, and Marshal, Texas, it only required from eight to fifteen pounds to feed a colony through the winter. After some further discussion this topic was dropped, and the next taken up. As to the best method of inducing bees to breed late in the fall Mrs. Tupper said her experience showed that changing the Queen bee to a strange hive was beneficial, inasmuch as the eggs deposited by her were better cherished and cared for. She also read a letter from J. P. H. Brown, of Augusta, Georgia, who regretted his inability to be present, but suggested to the society the propriety of instituting a series of experiments with the object of improving the bee pasturage of our country. Steps, he said, should be taken to have yearly reports made from various points of the honey-producing trees, plants and shrubs, and what will pay best to cultivate and plant with the least labor and expense. In such reports, the soil, climate, hardiness of plant, time and duration of flowering, does it yield both honey and pollen, or does it possess only one of these properties, should always be stated. In consideration of the importance of the questions Mr. Brown suggested that they be referred to standing committees.

The letter was referred to the Business Committee, and on motion of Mr. Clarke the remaining undiscussed topics were temporarily laid aside, except the last one, which was taken up, and a large number of places were suggested as good locations for holding the next annual meeting. Among them were Des Moines, St. Louis, Columbus, Cleveland, Toledo, Chicago, and Cincinnati. Some further talk of a rambling character followed, when the Society adjourned to meet again at nine o'clock this morning.

This is an appeal from the action of the court in confirming the report of an auditor who was appointed to report facts, and distribute money arising from the Sheriff's sale of leasehold estate of James L. Johnson.

Appeal of Mary Sullivan from the decree of the Common Pleas of Crawford county. Argued by J. Newton McCloskey for appellant, and Pearson Church contra.

THE CRAWFORD COUNTY JAIL.

In the matter of the petition of Orlando Reed, Sheriff of Crawford county, for the approval of the appointment of a keeper of the common jail of Crawford county. Argued by David T. McKay for appellant, and John B. Compton, for appelle. On the 6th of April, 1874, Orlando Reed the appellant presented to the Quarter Session Court a petition praying the Court to approve the appointment of Bruno Albaugh as keeper of the common jail, and to fix his salary. The Court dismissed the petition on the ground that there is no jail in Crawford county, fitted as a work house, to which the Court could sentence convicts to confinement, at labor. The law makes workhouses out of jails where workhouses are especially provided. The Court below said that with such a jail as they have, there are no convicts sentenced to confinement at labor, and therefore there are no duties for a keeper to perform.

Anastasia Carroll et al. vs. Bell & Weir and W. A. Reed and Joseph Gainey. In 1872 Bell & Weir operated a stone quarry in Allegheny, and Richard Carroll was their foreman. A narrow road was located above the quarry. A horse owned by Reed was being driven along the road by Joseph Gainey, and by the alleged combined carelessness of the driver and of the owners of the quarry in not protecting the road, the horse fell over the precipice a distance of about sixty feet. Richard Carroll was struck by the horse and received injuries which caused his death, whereupon his widow and children brought an action claiming $10,000 damage. The plaintiff's testimony having all been heard, a non suit was ordered by the Court on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient to maintain the action.

Patrick Donahoe, a workman at the quarry, was hurt at the same time, and he also brought an action for damages. The Court ordered a non suit in his case, also.

THE RIVER MEN.

Meeting at the Coal Exchange Yesterday—Opinion of the Proposed New Bridge Over the Monongahela.

A special meeting of the Coal Exchange was held yesterday afternoon, Mr. Jno. F. Dravo, presiding. Mr. Lysle, from the Committee appointed to confer with Gen. Myers, of the Signal Service, relative to having the river dispatches sent in time to be published in the evening papers of the same day in which they were sent, read a communication from that gentleman stating that they were unable to do so at present, on account of want of telegraphing facilities, but that he would try to have it arranged satisfactorily.

Mr. Cornell reported that the bar which has formed in the Monongahela river, above the pier of the Panhandle railroad bridge, a space about thirty-six feet wide and one hundred and thirty feet long has been removed, but the work is not yet finished. The Committee having it in charge was authorized to complete it.

The Secretary was directed to inform Col. Merrill that parties are filling in the Ohio river above the Steubenville bridge, and that it will make such a change in the channel as to render navigation very dangerous.

Mr. Gray stated that application has been made for a charter to build a bridge across the Monongahela river at the Point. He considered the matter a very important one, and trusted that the Exchange would give it immediate attention, as the structure, unless it should be a suspension bridge, or would span the entire channel, would be a serious impediment to free navigation. Mr. Davis, the Engineer of the Bridge Company, was introduced at this juncture, and showed a number of plans of bridges to the Exchange. Some of them have one pier and others two. None of the members appeared to be particularly pleased with any of the plans, but one of them, having two piers a hundred feet from each shore, with a span of six hundred and fifty feet between, and seventy-two feet above low water mark, appeared to meet with the most favor. It was not adopted, however, and without arriving at any decision the Exchange adjourned.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Session of the Commission Last Night—Chief Engineer's Report—Clothing for the Firemen—Finances—The Striking of False Alarms—Review, &c.

A regular meeting of the Fire Commission was held last night in Municipal Hall. The members present were Messrs. Jones, Chambers, Pender, Larimer, McIlroy, and President Wilson.

Chief White reported as follows of the operations of the Department for the months of September and October: Number of fires and alarms during September, twenty-six, occasioning a loss of $55,300; one of the alarms was for a fire at Braddock's Field, however, which is outside of the city limits. The important fires were, September 14, box 31, Reese, Owens & Co's pork packing house, Seventh avenue, occasioning a loss of $12,000. September 14, box 74, row of frame houses on Butler street; loss $6,000. September 21, box 115, Saw Mill Run bridge and eight dwellings; loss $25,000. September 28, box 63, corner Penn avenue and Twenty-sixth street; planing mill; loss $12,000. During October there were twenty-six fires and alarms, occasioning a loss of $2,800, the most important of which was on October 10th, box 127, soap manufactory, Bingham street, South side; loss $2,000. Thomas Kirk was appointed, Sept. 10th, to fill the vacancy occasioned in Engine company No. 12 by the resignation of Phillip Motz. Report received and appointment confirmed.

The Secretary, Mr. Frank P. Case, made the following report:

Expenditures since October....$ 15,575 85
Previously expended during 1874 112,599 44

Total..........$128,175 29
Balance November 1..........$44,569 12
Expended up to November 11.... 11,103 41

Balance, November 11..........$33,465 71

Received and filed.

Superintendent Fullwood reported the repairs made to the fire alarm telegraph lines, and also the placing of twelve extra locks of the alarm boxes designated by the Commissioners. Received and filed.

The special committee, to which was assigned the duty of purchasing material and having bed clothing made for the companies, reported that they had purchased material and manufactured therefrom 56 comforts, 59 sheets, 52 bolster slips, and 41 pillow slips. The whole cost, including making, was $255.58. If the clothing had been ready made it would have cost $310.90; thus saving $55.32 by having the good manufactured themselves. Finding more goods necessary the committee purchased additional material, so as to give the firemen warm and comfortable beds for the winter. Received and filed, and action of the committee approved.

The President stated, in answer to a question as to why the Hazlewood alarm bell does not strike, that the Superintendent reported that the machinery of the striking apparatus was so much exposed to the weather that it always got out of order.

A number of bills were read and ordered to be paid.

A number of applications were read for positions on the Thirty-sixth ward engine house, and they were filed with the applications already in.

Mr. Wilson moved that a street review of the Fire Department be held by the Commission in accordance with the usual custom. Carried.

Mr. Chambers moved that the fire alarm telegraph be extended to the corner of Erin street and Webster avenue, and that a box be located there. Referred to the President of the Commission and Superintendent of the Telegraph with power to act.

The "Thomas Rees" engine was finally accepted from the Amoskeag Engine Company.

Mr. Wilson brought up the matter of the striking of a number of false alarms in the city within the last few months. He thought the Commission should take some action to remedy the evil. He reported that on a certain evening when two false alarms were struck, he offered $100 reward for the detection and conviction of the party or parties striking the false alarms. The action of Mr Wilson was approved and $100 was made the standing reward for the detection and conviction of any person striking a false alarm.

Adjourned.

THE CONNEAUTVILLE CASE.

Second Day of the Trial of the Cashier—Additional Testimony for the Prosecution—The Trial to be Resumed this Morning.

The trial of D. D. Williams, in the United States Circuit Court, which was begun on Tuesday, was resumed yesterday morning before Judge McKennan. There was a large attendance, the court room being well filled. The testimony of Dr. Hugie, of Conneautville, was to the effect that he was called to see Mr. Williams after he had been found in the bank, and that he seemed much prostrated from his experience of the night before. After he had been removed to his house the Doctor said he asked him who had robbed the bank, and found him unable to talk. In time, however, he became able to speak, when he made a full statement, which agrees with that which has already appeared in our columns. The doctor said he prescribed for him and attended him for two or three days, visiting him three times each day. As to his pulse, he thought it was about sixty-five. He ordered quiet about the room of Mr. Williams, and excluded all visitors, because he thought he needed rest. The witness stated that the cashier's wrists bore marks which came from the cords with which he had been bound.

Dr. McMurty testified that when he was called in, Mr. Williams' pulse was only forty-five; that his extremities were cold and that the color of his hands was purpleish, and his general appearance indicated prostration. He also stated that prompt means were taken to restore circulation and warmth to his body.

A number of other witnesses were examined who appeared to corroborate, in the main, what was published in our issue of yesterday. One additional fact which was brought out, however, was that there was snow on the ground, and though no tracks could be found, yet Mr. Powers stated in his testimony that persons could pass to the bank without making any special foot-prints in the snow on either side of the path.

Col. Frank Mantor testified in addition to what has already been given, as to the condition and place where Mr. Williams was found; that there was saliva on the floor where he was lying and that he noticed a few red spots on the gag.

Mr. John Sturtevant stated that in conversation with the cashier, shortly after he was found, that he said that the whole robbery was committed in about two or three minutes.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE BURGLARS.

He also gave a description of the burglars, saying that the men either had crape over their faces or were colored. The larger of the two had a cap on his head, and the smaller wore a fur cap. The witness also testified that he found over $13,000 in currency missing; that he counted all the money on the following Tuesday. The cash consisted of $12,000 in legal tenders and $2,000 in mutilated currency.

The testimony closed at three o'clock, and will be resumed at the opening of Court this morning. It is thought the examination of witnesses for the prosecution will be concluded by noon to-day, when the defense will be taken up. The final result is looked too with much interest.

What are the Wild Waves Saying?

Why the same that everybody says, which is, that cheaper boots and shoes can be bought at the store of R. Taggart, No. 129 Federal street, than at any other house in the two cities.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

The very elite of the admirers of the drama turned out last evening to witness Mr. Lawrence Barrett's rendition of the avaricious and vindictive Shylock in the "Merchant of Venice." Such a thoroughly pleased and appreciative audience seldom greeted any actor as was present on this occasion, and seldom has the play been performed in so successful and highly satisfactory manner. Mr. Barrett has a good conception of the role of Shylock, which, like his rendition of many other characters, differs considerably from that of other artists, and the language meets with full power of representation in the round and full-toned voice of the actor, the effect being magical on the audience. A manifest feeling of sympathy prevailed for him notwithstanding the avarice, cupidity and vindictiveness of the Venetian money-lender, at being so badly treated by the Christians, that was only heightened by the raillery of him in his confusion and distress, when reminded of what is not "nominated in the bond." This shade of the character was brought out very strongly by Mr. Barrett, so that his impersonation was more pleasing than it would have been were he to strictly follow the text. His natural and easy elocution and his forcible delineation of the character was fully recognized and won deserved applause. The support was excellent, with one or two exceptions, where too frequent prompting was necessary; that rendered by Miss Troy was particularly good on the occasion.

To-night "The Marble Heart" will be performed, and on Friday evening Bulwer's comedy of "Mony" for Mr. Barrett's benefit.

Library Hall.

Those of our readers who wish to enjoy a rich and rare musical treat should remember that to-morrow afternoon the Germania Orchestra gives a concert at Library Hall. This organization is one of the best in the community, it is deserving in every respect, and the programme it offers is of such a character that it will doubtless draw well.

Slave Cabin Concerts.

The famous "Tennesseeans," the popular band of colored vocalists, will give an entertainment in the North Avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny, on Saturday evening. These strangers are making a tour of the western cities, giving entertainments for the benefit of the new college in process of erection at Nashville, Tennessee. They sing the old songs of plantation life, and sing them with such a sweetness and feeling and power, that wherever their concerts have been given, they have received the unqualified approval of the press and people. Lovers of real, rich, soul-stirring melody will find all their desires in a musical way abundantly gratified by an attendance at this Saturday evening concert.

An Entertainment at St. Peter's.

An entertainment combining gastronomic and social pleasures will be given to-day at St. Peter's Episcopal church, consisting of lunch from 12 to 2 P. M., and supper from 6 to 8 P. M. The good folks at St. Peter's never do things by halves, and we can assure all who attend of a good feast and a very enjoyable social entertainment, while they will at the same time be putting their money where it will do the most good.
